S. GETS SWEEPING INJUNCTION AGAINST RAILROAD STRIKERS FORBIDDING INTERFERENCE WITH TRAINS

KILLED, 28 INJURED, IN FRISCO WRECK WHEN TREESTLE GIVES WAY

Forward Cars of Train Which Left St. Louis Last Night Drop Into Creek Near Wittenberg on River Division, 100 Miles South; More Seriously Hurt Being Brought to Hospital Here.

Two male passengers were killed, at least eight seriously injured and 20 or more less severely injured, in a Frisco train wreck between the stations of Seventy-six and Wittenberg, at a point miles south of St. Louis, on the river division, at 4 a. m. today. The wrecked train was No. 805, the St. Louis and Memphis, which left Union Station at 9 o'clock last night. The lead cars went through a trestle. The exact cause of the accident has not been learned, but President Kurn of the Frisco said tonight it likely that the structure, which is over a creek, had been weakened by the recent rising of the stream, and heavy rains.

PRISONER CONFESSES HE KILLED WOMAN

Misses' Statement Says Was Accident, as He Wished Only to Frighten Her.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 1.—J. W. Hudson Jr., arrested in Chattanooga last night, and held for police here in connection with the disappearance of Mrs. Hattie L. Ferguson, Feb. 8, whose body was found in a secluded spot several weeks later, made a confession last night, shortly after he arrived from Chattanooga, that he had killed the woman. Hudson, a police and newspaper representative, said that he killed the woman. He maintained the killing was an accident. Hudson's confession declares that on the day of the tragedy Hudson telephoned Mrs. Ferguson to him and that they went to the river bottoms, north of the city. Hudson declared that he had no intention of killing her, but that he had wanted to frighten her. Hudson's wife had disappeared on the night of the tragedy. His wife had been seen last night when she was seen to jump from the bridge over the Mississippi River. She told police she had been shot, and when she opened her eyes and saw her husband, she was reported to have jumped into the river, but she was not seen. Hudson's statement says he has been in Dallas, Fort Worth, Little Rock, Shreveport and Crosby, La., leaving this city. He first was in Shreveport, he said, and returned for some time at the home of his father at Crosby, La., where he was the name of J. C. Jackson. Hudson was here once, but said he advised him not to stay in Louisiana, and he went to Atlanta and assumed the name of J. A. Mitchell. Hudson, he said, took him to Jacksonville, Fla., and Cuba, where he wrote his wife, he said, but without receiving an answer.

FIRST MAN HELD IN HERRIN CASE MINERS' OFFICER

Otis Clark, Accused of Murdering Strip Mine Superintendent, President of Local Union at Weaver.

Hospital Patient Tells of "Big Man" Who Assumed Leadership of Crowd That Captured Workers.

By the Associated Press. MARION, Ill., Sept. 1.—Noble Bell, store manager at Johnston City, Ill., who refused to testify this morning before the grand jury investigating the Herrin riot of June 22, this afternoon reconsidered his attitude and went before the jurors. He was prepared "to tell all I know," he told Attorney-General Daugherty. Bell and James Taylor and Enos Yates of Marion, taxicab driver, had refused to answer specific questions, standing on their constitutional rights as citizens.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

MARION, Ill., Sept. 1.—Otis Clark, the first man called upon to defend himself against a charge of participating in the "Herrin massacre," sat in a segregated cell of the Williamson County Jail today reading a magazine. He arose and advanced to the grating when a statement was sought. He looked steadily at his visitor through his horn-rimmed spectacles and the natural rudeness of his countenance was heightened by a flush. "I don't know anything about it," he said, and went back to his seat and resumed the reading of his magazine. This is the man, round of face, square of jaw, strong of neck and "bull headed" of bearing, who is charged in the indictment with the murder of C. K. McDowell, superintendent of the Lester strip mine, by the roadside, as the other 18 men, disarmed prisoners, were being marched to the woods, where they were killed, and as many more were wounded, on June 22. Story of Wounded Camp Cook. One of those latter, Edward H. Rose, camp cook, still fighting for life in the Herrin hospital, told the Post-Dispatch correspondent yesterday about "the big man" who wrested the leadership from "the little man" on the march from the strip mine. "I saw him first," said Rose, "near Crenshaw Crossing. He came up to the little man and asked, 'Where are you taking these men?' The little man said he was going to take us to Herrin and said something about giving us a square deal. "Square deal, hell," said the big man. "I'm going to take charge of this thing and see that they get the justice that's coming to them." "They faced each other each with an automatic and I thought they were going to bore each other, but the little man gave way and the big man became the leader," said Rose. Last He Saw of McDowell. "McDowell, who was a cripple, was marching near the head of the column. They had been beating him over the head. Then the big man and another man took him out of line and I did not see McDowell again." There are witnesses who say that after McDowell was taken out of the line he was held by the throat and shot through the head. It was "eyes front" with Rose when they reached the woods and he did not see the leader, who ordered, "You guys with guns come on in and the rest stay out," and it was still "eyes front" when at the barbed wire fence he was ordered to run and ran with the others and was shot down as he ran.

LEADER DECLARES STRIKERS WILL NOT ABATE WORK TO WIN

W. H. Johnston, President of Striking Machinists, Says Injunction Will Not Affect Efforts.

CALLS COURT SUIT "ANOTHER BLUNDER"

"The Administration Has Done Everything It Could to Help the Railroad Management," He Says.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Leaders of the striking shophmen will not abate their attempts to make their strike effective, whatever action is taken by the court in Chicago as a result of injunction proceedings instituted by Attorney-General Daugherty. It was said today by W. H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, one of the largest striking groups. "The filing of this suit is just another blunder to be added to the large list which the administration has already made in dealing with the railroad situation," Johnston said. "If I am surprised by Mr. Daugherty isn't attempting to restrain the railroad instead of the men. The administration has done everything it could to help the railroad management."

"To Hell With Injunction," Says Chief of Carmen

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 1.—"I say to hell with this injunction," Martin F. Ryan, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America, declared today when informed of the Federal injunction granted in Chicago against the striking shophmen. Ryan is one of the officers involved. "I am a law-abiding citizen," he added. "I am not fomenting any trouble. We can't be enjoined any more than we have been enjoined already. We have been enjoined from doing everything but breathing. "Daugherty won't get very far with this. "The whole thing in a nutshell is, we have the railroads whipped to a frazzle. And now—the Government steps in."

Attorney General's Address Telling of Strike's Effect On Country's Transportation

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Sept. 1. ATTORNEY GENERAL DAUGHERTY today addressed the United States District Court immediately following the reading of his formal complaint asking for an injunction against all the railroad strikers. His plea for the injunction, Daugherty said, was made necessary by the fact "that there comes a time in the history of all nations when the people must be advised whether they have a government or not."

"No union, or combination of unions can, under our law, dictate to the American union," the statement continued. "When the unions claim the right to dictate to the Government and to dominate the American people, and deprive the people of the necessities of life, then the Government will destroy the unions, for the Government of the United States is supreme and must endure."

"Tomorrow it will be said by some more malicious than truthful, that this proceeding is intended as a death blow to the unions. . . . In my judgment, this movement (the injunction) is necessary for the protection and preservation of the unions themselves."

"So long, and to the extent that I can speak for the Government of the United States, I will use the power of the Government within my control to prevent the labor unions of the country from destroying the open shop."

"When a man in this country is not permitted to engage in lawful toil, whether he belongs to a union or not, the death-knell to liberty will be sounded and anarchy will supersede organized government."

The Attorney-General told the court that because of lawlessness and violence against railroad property and railroad workers his department had requested requests for no less than 40,000 Deputy Marshals to keep down the strike disorder. Already some 5500 Marshals have been so assigned, and in addition special service men of the department have taken up similar work throughout the country, the attorney said. The cost of such special service, he said, already expended was more than $1,000,000 for the eight weeks' duration of the strike.

In California alone, Daugherty said, more than $75,000,000 worth of fruit and produce already had been destroyed because of the failure of transportation systems to move the crops. In Somerset, Ky., he said, 25,000 cars of bituminous coal were congested in the railroad yards yesterday. Vandalism had tampered with more than 5000 cars there, he said, and as a result the nation was faced with suffering for want of coal. Fifty per cent of the engines of the nation's railroads have been rendered useless by lawless activities since the strike began, he said. The Chicago & Alton Railroad has been forced into receivership by the drain upon its resources caused by the strike. What the loss has been cannot be estimated, but the transportation systems must be rebuilt. For that the American people must pay, he said. The Department of Justice represents the American people, his plea continued, and while it was regretted that such broad action was necessary, no other course remained for the Government to preserve the interests of more than 100,000,000 citizens. There was no doubt in the Attorney-General's mind as to the legality of the Government's position in requesting the injunction, he went on. The Attorney-General prefaced his remarks with this statement:

"I deem it the duty of the Government in undertaking this responsibility . . . involving the fundamental principles of free government, that the court be apprised of the circumstances which make this unusual prayer necessary."

The L. W. W. was co-operating with the strikers, not on call, but because the opportunity to strike at the Government was presented to aid in whatever way possible in the obstruction of transportation, he said.

1000 Mail Trains Taken Off. Already more than 1000 mail trains have been taken from the railroad schedules throughout the nation. Untold suffering has resulted to both commerce and the people, caused by the various forms of lawlessness manifest since the strike, the Attorney-General declared.

Government agency fixed the schedules and the rates under which railroads operated, Daugherty said, adding that it is necessary followed that the execution of that obligation by the railroads should be aided by the removal of all lawless obstructions to normal transportation.

"There are many who believe," the Attorney-General said, "on account of the arrogance of certain officials of lawless unions that the unions themselves should be destroyed."

"I do not think they should, but I think they should be corrected and restrained."

"If the acts of violence and murder are inspired by the unions, then it is time for the Government to call a halt."

"No labor leader, or capitalist leader, nor organization or association of any kind will be permitted by the Government of the United States to laugh in the faces of a famishing people without prompt prosecution and proper punishment."

ORDER IS ISSUED AFTER DAUGHERTY ADDRESSES COURT

Attorney General Personally Files Suit in Chicago Naming Six Unions and Railway Employees, Department of A. F. of L.—Forms of Picketing Enjoined.

By Associated Press. CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—The United States Government today obtained a temporary order against the six striking railroad shop crafts unions, their officers and members, restraining them from interfering in any way with the operation of the railroads and their properties.

The order was granted by Federal District Judge James H. Wilkerson on application of United States Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty and District Attorney Charles F. Clyne. The order will remain in force until Sept. 11, pending hearing on the Government's application for a permanent writ of injunction. The order was granted soon after the Attorney-General, having come unannounced from Washington, filed the application personally, and after he had addressed the Court, reviewing disorders that followed the walkout of the shophmen July 1 and stating the Government's attitude.

Besides the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor, the six international unions, International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, International Association of Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers, Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, International Brotherhood of Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders, International Association of Machinists, Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, as well as 120 system federations were named as the objectives of the injunction.

Soon after the arrival of the Attorney-General, Blackburn, Eastern line, Assistant Attorney-General, appeared before District Judge Wilkerson and began reading a copy of the petition for a restraining order. The application, sweeping in character, sought to prevent all interference with operations of trains, or with railroad property in any way.

The application for injunction specifically named the presidents of the various union organizations involved in the strike, which started July 1 last, following a decision of the Railroad Labor Board reducing wages of railway employees throughout the country.

Carrying of Mails Mentioned. The acts of violence and murder are inspired by the unions, then it is time for the Government to call a halt.

"No labor leader, or capitalist leader, nor organization or association of any kind will be permitted by the Government of the United States to laugh in the faces of a famishing people without prompt prosecution and proper punishment."

GRAND JURY OF 'BEST CITIZENS' TO LOOK INTO PRIMARY

Circuit Judge Wurdeman of St. Louis County to Instruct Body to Investigate Fraud Charges.

MEMBERS WILL BE CALLED SEPT. 18

Inquiry Will Be One Result of Activity of Clean Election League Against Rule of Fred Essen.

Circuit Judge Wurdeman of St. Louis County announced today that he would instruct the grand jury, which will be convened at Clayton Sept. 18, to investigate the charges of wholesale fraud in the county primary election of Aug. 1, and to take appropriate action on its findings. He will also instruct it to look into gambling and kindred evils, which reform elements have linked with the alleged plot to deliver the primary.

The grand jurors are to be selected from the "best citizens of the county," the judge said. The law provides that the court may direct either the sheriff or the county court, the administrative body, to choose the 12 citizens who will serve on the grand jury. Judge Wurdeman has not announced what method will be followed in selecting the grand jurors this time.

St. Louis County ordinarily has a grand jury but once a year, and it has been believed best not to call for a special grand jury, but to await the regular one this month. Judge Wurdeman returned several days ago from his vacation.

Result of Fight on Essen.

The grand jury investigation will be one result of the activity of the Clean Election League, formed by citizens to combat the rule of Fred Essen, Republican boss of the county, and to endeavor to get a new sort of administration of county affairs. Almost the entire Essen slate was nominated in the primary. The present County Court comprises three adherents of the "boss," Sheriff William is opposed to Essen, and the charge has been made frequently that gamblers, nonresidents and men with city police records, were allowed to serve as election officials in the county primary. At the Wallston election, it has been alleged, followers of "Tony" Foley, proprietor of a gambling establishment at 6128 A. Easton avenue, Wallston, were the officials. Voted ballots were thrown in the back yard at this precinct, it has been charged.

Foley's establishment, which was closed about three weeks ago "because things were getting too hot for it," has been reopened, it is understood.

Democrats for Fusion Ticket.

The Democratic County Committee yesterday approved the tentative plans of the Clean Election League for a fusion ticket for the November election to include some Democratic candidates. The vote was 6 to 4, the members dividing along the line fusion advocates thought they would. The vote was on the following resolution, introduced by Clarence Shotwell, committeeman from Bonhomme Township:

"The Republican party in St. Louis County has so large a majority that Democrats ordinarily cannot be elected. Corruption in the county has been charged. It appears that the majority of Republicans are opposed to corrupt methods, so the Democrats are in a position to obtain the support of the better Republicans."

Therefore, be it resolved, that our appreciation and approbation be extended to the Clean Election League for placing Democrats on the fusion ticket. The Democratic Committee is for a clean and honest election."

How Committeemen Voted.

Chairman Cronin, also from Bonhomme Township, declared, he was opposed to fusion and voted against the resolution. Vice Chairman Edward P. Dillon, Carondelet Township, said he would not support a ticket on which Republicans and Democrats were mixed, and voted in the negative. Secretary Al G. Bence, who usually shares Cronin's views, and Vice Chairman Frank Johnson, Central Township, cast the other votes against approval.

The Democratic Committee understood that the Clean Election League planned to name the following Democrats as some of the candidates on the fusion ticket: State Representative

Held in Connection With Wreck at Gary, Ind.

These are the three striking railroad workers said by the police to have confessed plotting the wrecking of the Michigan Central Flyer, which was derailed near Gary, Ind., on Aug. 20. The engineer and fireman of the train were killed in the wreck. The strikers, from left to right, are Charles Uselis, Joe Popawitch and John Petrowski, whose alleged confessions contained admissions of plans to spread a reign of terror among railway workers.

Weaver mine and a dominating figure in the mining village. During the strike he did some farming near Goreville in the edge of Johnson County, about 15 miles south of Marion. When the strike was settled he moved his wife and three children and two stepchildren back to Weaver. It was the report that he was selling his possessions and preparing to flee that caused the grand jury to indict him sooner than was intended. Deputy Sheriff, cautioning not to go to Weaver at night, went there early yesterday morning.

Clark's house was closed and had been locked. The neighbors said he and his wife had driven away to Marion in their new Ford.

Found Clark in Marion.

The deputies returned to Marion and found Mrs. Clark sitting in the Ford at the entrance to the building in which are the offices of the United Mine Workers' attorneys. In the lawyers' offices, consulting with them and Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois United Mine Workers, they found Clark.

The attorneys and officials were suave. They said they would be responsible for Clark while they were trying to arrange bond for him. The deputies reported to Attorney-General Brundage.

Go back and get that man, as the captain directs you to do," he ordered them.

They went back and got him and took him to jail. Farrington accompanying him part of the way. He stopped to speak to his wife.

"I have to go to jail," he said, "but I'll be out by tonight."

Mrs. Clark was afraid to drive through traffic. Deputy Goodall drove for her to the edge of town and she went to the farm expecting to return in the evening and get her husband and take him home to Weaver.

ATTACHMENT OF 30 ALLEGED SWINDLERS' PROPERTY SOUGHT

More Than $150,000 Will Be Tied Up if Move Is Successful, It Is Announced.

By the Associated Press.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 1.—Seeking the recovery of $25,000 lost in a "bunco" game, A. Nitsche of Houston, Tex., today filed suit in District Court and asked for an attachment against all the tangible property of 30 members of the alleged "million dollar swindling gang" arrested in raids by Denver authorities last week.

If his petition is granted, more than $150,000, including cash in banks, personal property and other securities now owned by the suspects, will be tied up, according to District Attorney Philip Vancie.

Other similar civil suits probably will be filed, the District Attorney said. Bond for J. H. French, who, police declare, is the leader of the alleged "bunco" ring, was fixed at $50,000. Bond for the other suspects was set at $25,000.

District Judge C. J. Moorley denied a motion for reduction of bond.

Fire Death Termed Accident.

Body of Mrs. Emma Jane Goff Was Found After Home Had Burned.

A coroner's verdict of accident was returned by a jury at Kirkwood yesterday afternoon, investigating the case of Mrs. Emma Jane Goff, 44 years old, who was burned to death Wednesday afternoon in her home, a two-story frame structure, on the Clayton car line, a short distance from the McKnight road.

R. I. Jenkins, who discovered the fire, and who found the body of Mrs. Goff in a front room of her home, testified that he entered the rear of Mrs. Goff's home after the fire started, but was forced outside because of the flames. He said that he found Mrs. Goff's body after the fire. The body was sent to St. James, Mo., Mrs. Goff's former home, for burial.

'COUNTY TURNS OUT MORE LIQUOR THAN REST OF STATE'

Gus O. Nations, Federal Prohibition Agent, Believes, However, That the Situation Is Slightly Improved.

Details of the uphill fight being waged against an army of bootleggers by the 17 prohibition enforcement agents in Missouri, two of whom are assigned to St. Louis, were related today to a Post-Dispatch reporter by Gus O. Nations, Prohibition Enforcement Agent in charge of the Eastern Missouri District, and William H. Allen, State Director of Prohibition Enforcement.

Nations frankly admitted that he and his two agents assigned to St. Louis have absolutely no chance of enforcing the prohibition laws in St. Louis. He was equally free to admit that the other three agents he now has cannot stamp out bootlegging in the 14 counties under his jurisdiction.

"But I do not believe that enforcement of the prohibition laws is impossible," Nations said. "With a force of 25 agents working continually in St. Louis I could clamp down on the 14 so tightly that the city would be bone dry."

"Bartenders Careful."

"Even with our limited force we have made progress. Several months ago it was possible for anyone to go into practically any saloon in the city and get a drink of whisky. Now, while it is still possible to get the whisky, the bartenders are learning to be more careful and only persons who have a satisfactory introduction are permitted to buy."

"The situation in St. Louis County is also slightly improved, but I am convinced that there is still more moonshine whisky made in the county than in any other county in the state of Missouri."

"The reason for that is a natural one. St. Louis County adjoins the largest market for moonshine in the state, and by conducting their county moonshiners and manufacturing operations in the county the moonshiners avoid the necessity of watching the St. Louis Police Department."

"The public has no idea of the difficulties under which we are working. In the first place, the office has a dual function. It must supervise the sale of whisky which is legitimate under the law, as well as prevent illegal sales."

"In the eastern Missouri district alone there are between 3000 and 4000 permits to write prescriptions or sell liquor which must be checked. That work must be done so there is little time left for enforcement work."

"We get a large number of letters every day giving tips on places where illicit whisky is being manufactured, or where the law is being otherwise violated. It is physically impossible for us even to attempt to run down all of these reports. Possibly only one in 10 is ever investigated at all."

"The only thing we can do is pick out cases here and there and try to make an example of them. When we are ready to make a raid we have the full co-operation of the Police Department and occasionally police officers furnish us with tips, but the Police Department is more greatly concerned with the enforcement of State laws than Federal prohibition laws.

"Encumbered With Red Tape."

"Then we are encumbered with a lot of red tape. If I get on a street car and go out to Grand avenue, spend a quarter for a drink of whisky and come back and make a case, five different reports to Washington are required before I get my quarter and my 14 cents car fare back. The same requirements apply to all expenses."

"The government revenues in Missouri would be greatly increased by additional prohibition agents. Take for instance a recent case in St. Louis County. Agents raided a farm on which was found a still, which, incidentally, cost $2500, and found 300 gallons of whisky."

"The civil liabilities accruing against the owner of that whisky in taxes in one year and another for possessing whisky, even illicit whisky, amounted to $5430. That amount becomes a lien against a $20,000 farm which the still operator possesses, and certainly still be collected. In addition the man probably will be assessed a fine of $1000 and given a jail sentence under criminal proceedings."

"With our present force and the inspection duties imposed upon us, we have no comprehensive plan for enforcement. But with an adequate force, and 30 agents in my district would do the work, we can make the entire territory dry. That force would give us a chance to so systematize the work that bootlegging could be almost completely eradicated."

Director Allen, who was present while Nations was talking, agreed with everything said and added a few observations of his own.

"I believe it is a good idea to let the public know the conditions under which we are really operating," he said.

"Like Mr. Nations, I believe that it is possible to enforce the prohibition law as adequately as other laws are enforced if we have a sufficient force. Other laws are occasionally violated and I do not suppose we could prevent an occasional violation of the prohibition law, but we could prevent the wholesale violation which everyone knows is in progress at present."

"Down in bone-dry Arkansas, with no large centers of population, there are 24 enforcement agents, while Missouri, with two large cities and a considerable 'wet' sentiment in certain sections of the state, has only 17. I am told that Illinois has 90 agents, 50 of whom are constantly on duty in Chicago."

"We are under a handicap also through the attitude taken by many persons who might be a great help to us. They possess information which would enable us to make cases against violators of the law, yet they are unwilling in many cases to give that information."

"The Al G. Barnes circus, consisting almost entirely of animal acts, will open a three-day engagement at Vandeventer and Laclede avenues next Friday. The show this year is featuring 'Alice in Jungland,' a spectacle in which many of the animals are used, and 'Tusco,' an elephant more than 12 feet tall, weighing 10 tons and said by the management to be the largest ever exhibited."

Many "high school" horses and a large number of clowns are other features. A street parade will be held Friday morning.

HOPE OF REACHING BURMINERS BEFORE NEXT car Grows That Rescue Crews Penetrate to 47 Entombed Men Too Late.

JACKSON, Cal., Sept. 1.—The Associated Press. Rescue crews will pierce depths of the Argonaut mine to save 47 entombed miners today on the fifth day of a cave-in. Beyond the drift is a 29-foot wall of rock and earth.

Rescue workers are burrowing about 50 feet of virgin rock in an effort to strike a drift which could be comparatively easy to penetrate. The drift is the barrier, a 29-foot wall of rock and earth.

ARRESTED AFTER TESTIFYING NOWLIN INQUEST

Brown, 16 Years Old, of Moundville, Held on Warrant Charging First-Degree Murder.

DELONO BROTHERS NAMED IN VERDICT

Other of Young Man Slain Near Nevada, Mo., Offers $1000 for Arrest and Conviction of Slaying.

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEVADA, Mo., Sept. 1.—James Brown, 16 years old, of Moundville, was arrested on a warrant charging first-degree murder following the slaying of a young man.

Young Brown was not named in the coroner's verdict, which declared that the killing of Nowlin was a homicide murder, and which named Sam and Joe Delono of Moundville, "and other persons of unknown name," as having committed the crime.

A warrant against Brown was issued immediately after the inquest, by J. W. Holman of Tulsa, Ok., who was touring party.

Joe and Sam Delono, accused of murder by the coroner's verdict, are being sought. Their brother, Carl Delono, who was with them at the time of the altercation with the Holman party and the shot by Sweeney, is still held, but was not named in the verdict. He insists that he rode back to Moundville with his brothers, and did not return to the scene of the trouble.

Young Brown, who is now held on the charge of having had a part in the killing, has been a boarder at the home of Frank Delono, a fourth brother. Brown was a witness in the inquest, and told of seeing Sam and Joe Delono in their car, and hearing Joe express a desire to kill the man who had fired at them.

Joe's face was bleeding, Brown said. This is in line with the assertion of Carl Delono and Henry Daze, who were riding with the Delonos, that Joe was wounded by the shot fired by Sweeney. Sweeney said, in his testimony, that the Delono car was out of range when he fired, and that he did not aim the gun.

COAL DISTRIBUTION BILL PASSED BY HOUSE, 214 TO 61

Measure, Also Regulating Prices, Opposed by 20 Republican and Supported by 30 Democratic Members.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Passage by the House of the administration coal distribution bill left completion of the legislative program growing out of the coal and rail strike emergency up to the Senate today. Resumption of debate on the Borah substitute for the House bill passed last week was the order of business in the Senate.

The bill for control of coal distribution and prices was put through the House yesterday by a vote of 214 to 61, the measure being opposed by 20 Republicans and supported by 30 Democrats. It went through as framed except for one change, amendment by Representative Sanders, Republican, Indiana, providing that the law should end Jan. 1, 1924.

The provision of the bill which developed the greatest opposition was that giving the President right of emergency at an end, to proclaim the existence of another such emergency without asking leave of Congress. It was finally retained by a vote of 148 to 124 in the House.

The bill was passed by the House after a two-hour debate during consideration of the Borah bill establishing a fact-finding commission in the Senate yesterday, after it disposed of the bonus bill, developed more into a discussion of the causes and possible effects of the present coal and rail situation. Passage of the measure was urged by Senator Frelinghuysen, Republican, New Jersey, who foresaw otherwise a similar condition in the coal industry to be faced by the country next spring.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—Only a "public mandate" would impel the anthracite operators to pay the miners the old wage scale beyond next April said a statement issued by the General Policies Committee of the mine owners after an all-day conference in this city. They will meet again Saturday to consider a mandate said the statement, but no other reason would impel them to enter into an agreement which would continue for longer than the present emergency prices to which emphatic objection has already been made.

The operators met to consider the suggestions made to miners and operators by United States Senators Pepper and Reed of Pennsylvania in Washington last Tuesday. The suggestions have not been made public by either side.

When the last joint conference broke up last week the operators had expressed a willingness to renew the old wage scale until next April on condition that the anthracite board of conciliation meet next January to fix wages and conditions for the coal year beginning April 1, 1923. If the board could not agree, three impartial citizens were to make the decision. The offer also provided that either side could reject the findings.

PLOT TO INTERFERE WITH MAILS LAID TO 5 RAIL WORKERS

Arrests Made at Slater, Mo.—Dragging of Fireman From Engine Specific Incident Cited Against Them.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 1.—Five men charged with conspiracy to interfere with the United States mails, arrested last night at Slater, Mo., by a deputy United States Marshal, are held in Kansas City.

The five men held, railroad workers, are: Leo F. Winkle, federation chairman for the striking shooimen at Slater; Barney Mayfield, chairman of the striking machinists; J. W. Nichols, a picket; E. L. Johnson, a brakeman, and Emmett Todd, a fireman.

The orders for the arrests were issued yesterday by United States Attorney Madison.

The specific case cited against the men is the raid on Chicago & Alton train No. 19, in Marshall, Mo., Friday night, when a substitute fireman, called in to fire the locomotive from Slater to Kansas City, was dragged from the engine.

Train No. 19 arrived in Slater at the time the Chicago & Alton firemen decided to walk out. The regular fireman refused to man the train through to its destination. A substitute was called in and started on the trip. At Marshall a group of strikers is alleged to have dragged him from the locomotive and refused to allow him to come through with the train. The train was held up at Marshall all night and the mails were carried to Kansas City in motor cars the next day.

The prisoners are held without bail. They were severely grilled at the Federal building by Madison and United States Marshal Parshall.

NURSE WHO SHOT DOCTOR SAYS HE REFUSED TO GIVE HER WORK

Woman Declares He Promised to Have Her Employed on Cases in Private Practice.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

FLORENCE, Ariz., Sept. 1.—Miss Catherine Encinas, 26 years old, a nurse, held without bail for the murder here Wednesday morning in the home of Dr. W. G. Randall, 46, has told officials the killing grew out of the physician's failure to employ her. She said she was discharged several months ago from a hospital of which Dr. Randall was superintendent and that the physician promised to get her assignments on cases in his private practice. She said she had no ill feeling against him and that Mrs. Randall was to blame for the trouble.

Dr. Randall was shot at close range when sitting in a chair. The bullet entered the left side and penetrated the heart.

Several threatening letters are reported to have been received by the doctor. Dr. Randall had been here since 1913, coming from Pueblo, Colo.

The fire at the fifth bridge was discovered by a locomotive engineer and extinguished. The railroad's telephone wires were cut near the scene of the fires. Each of the burned trestles was about 500 feet in length.

Traffic over the main line is entirely suspended. The railroad company has offered a reward of $1000 for the arrest and conviction of the persons responsible for the fires.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Spokesmen for the 106 railroads involved in the hearing on the petition of 400,000 maintenance of way men for a minimum wage of 48 cents an hour, submitted their testimony to the United States Railroad Labor Board today. The board is expected to hand down its decision within the next two weeks.

The trackmen had finished their presentations when the carriers offered their testimony, expecting to complete their side of the case during the day.

W. J. Lauck, union statistician, declared yesterday the employees were entitled to a "decent living wage not only upon humanitarian grounds, but as a definite legal right" and restated his position that this wage was at least 40 cents an hour instead of the 32 cents now in force.

He said that President Harding had described the living wage as a "saving wage," but that the union "had not ventured to ask as much."

In support of his claim, Lauck declared that he had the assurance of Senator Cummins, one of the framers of the act, that this was his view of the matter.

Two Shotguns Thrown From Machine After Attack on Tony Riggio in Front of 1018 North Ninth Street.

WIFE TELLS OF DEMAND FOR MONEY

She Says Husband Received Unsigned Letter 2 Months Ago Threatening Him Unless He Gave Over $1000.

Tony Riggio, 38 years old, an Italian, was shot and seriously wounded at 8 o'clock last night in front of his grocery at 1018 North Ninth street by two or three gunmen, who fired at him with sawed-off shotguns from an automobile that sped past his store. The assailants escaped after throwing two shotguns from the car about 50 feet south of Riggio's store.

Riggio, at the hospital, today denied any knowledge of his assailants, but his wife, Antonia Riggio, told a Post-Dispatch reporter that he had received a letter demanding $1000 about two months ago. Threats were made, she said, on Riggio's life and to blow up his store if the money was not paid.

Mrs. Riggio declined to exhibit the letter. She said it had not been signed and contained no instructions for payment of the sum demanded.

Shooting in Fend Center. This block in North Ninth street has been a storm center in Italian feuds, according to the police, who have been unable to find the assailants in two murders and one other shooting in that neighborhood since July 23, last.

They are seeking to connect the assault on Riggio last night with the fatal shooting July 23 of Francesco Sicola, 45, of 931 Park avenue, in front of 1014 North Ninth street, two doors from Riggio's store, and the shooting and serious wounding of Frank Dalto, 66, of 1014A North Ninth street, the following day on Carr street, between Seventh and Eighth streets. Joseph Cetta, 30 years old, 1232A North Eleventh street, whom police believe knew something of the shooting of Sicola and Dalto, was shot and fatally wounded Aug. 23 at 1022 North Seventh street.

Will Corso, Italian, was shot and killed about a year ago in a hallway between 1014 and 1018 North Ninth street.

Riggio's Story of Attack.

Riggio was carrying vegetables from a sidewalk display into his store last night when the assault occurred. He told police he was picking up a basket when two or more shots were fired at him from an automobile. Three slugs entered his right side, two passing out Riggio's back and the other remaining in his body. Riggio declared he did not see his assailants.

Tony Gardino 9 years old, 1023 North Ninth street, told policemen the car from which the shots were fired was travelling south on North Ninth street at a high rate of speed. The boy said two men, whose descriptions he could not give, leaned out of the car with guns when the firing started.

The shotguns are being held by the police, who are tracing the numbers in an effort to learn the identity of the owners.

Riggio and his wife have been conducting the store at 1018 North Ninth street for about seven years. They have five children, ranging in age from 3 to 10 years.

LEWIS SAYS POWERFUL FORCES SEEK TO PUT LABOR ON RACK

Mine Workers' President Issues Labor Day Statement Saying Unions Can't Be Broken.

By the Associated Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 1.—Powerful forces are at work to break down organized labor and "deal with it on the same basis that some persons deal with their horses and mules," according to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, in a Labor day statement issued today.

"These forces regard labor as a piece of property which they own and must control," he continued. "They fail to take into consideration the human element in labor. It is their avowed purpose to reduce the workingman to such a low level of existence that he will be unable to defend himself against any form of brutality and starvation that the employer might wish to inflict."

"Since Labor day, 1921, this conflict has raged with increasing intensity until it has engulfed the entire nation in industrial strife."

"But labor still stands, its columns unbroken, and it will continue to stand to the end of the fight. Organized labor cannot be destroyed. It is here to stay. These employers and those interests that are now working so hard to wipe it out should learn the best way to deal with labor is to be fair and just."

Boy's Skull Fractured by Mail Truck. Steve Komlosky, 13 years old, son of Alex Komlosky, 522 South Vandeventer avenue, suffered a fractured skull and severe bruises at 4:30 p. m. yesterday while riding a bicycle in front of 4200 Gratiot avenue, when he was run down by a mail truck driven by Charles Sindler, 1228A Geyer avenue. The boy said he was riding east in Gratiot avenue and had swerved sharply to the right to avoid a westbound truck when he was struck by the mail truck. His condition is serious.

CAULFIELD RESIGNS
AS CITY COUNSELOR

Desires to Resume Private Practice; George T. Haid to Be Appointed Successor.

Henry S. Caulfield, City Counselor, announced yesterday that he had resigned and that Mayor Kiel had determined to appoint George T. Haid, First Associate City Counselor, as his successor. Caulfield said that his desire to re-enter private practice was his sole reason for resigning.

He had intended, he said, retiring Sept. 15, but the unexpected setting of a hearing in a public utility matter with which he is familiar had caused him to defer his retirement until Oct. 1.

He was referring to the Public Service Commission's order to the Laclede Gas Light Co. to appear before it on Sept. 28 to show cause why its former rates for gas should not be resumed. As is known, this order followed the publication by the Post-Dispatch of the fact that the Laclede earnings were in excess of a sum fixed by the commission to be a fair return.

Caulfield was appointed City Counselor on May 16, 1931, succeeding Charles H. Daues, who resigned to accept appointment as Judge of the St. Louis Circuit Court of Appeals. Caulfield said that the Mayor's selection of Haid as his successor pleased him, because Haid was familiar with the office. Haid was a candidate for Circuit Judge in the last primary, with the endorsement of the bar association, but was defeated.

Caulfield has had a long career of public service, having at various times been a Judge of the Circuit Court of Appeals, Executive Commissioner and Representative in Congress from the Eleventh District.

BILL AIMED AT BRANCH BANKS

Membership in Federal Reserve System Would Be Refused.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Representative Millspeugh of Missouri has introduced a bill providing membership in the Federal Reserve system be denied to State or National banks which establish branch banks. In a statement supporting the measure Millspeugh, himself a banker, said the banks of Missouri were virtually unanimous against the establishment of branch banks. He said a "crisis" had been reached through the action of a St. Louis bank in setting up a branch in that city and announcing its intention to establish a number of others. Operation of branch banks, Millspeugh said, would result eventually in the elimination of the small independent banks which he regarded as the "bulwark of the agricultural sections."

URGES ONE STANDARD FOR TRAFFIC SIGNALS

Charles M. Talbert Offers Suggestions Before National Safety Council at Detroit.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DETROIT, Sept. 1.—A national organization to investigate the various signals and signaling devices in use in various parts of the country, and to work out a national standardization of signals, was urged by Charles M. Talbert, former Director of Streets and Sewers of St. Louis, in an address before the eleventh annual congress of the National Safety Council here Wednesday.

The recommendation was made by Talbert in his annual report as chairman of the Standard Commission of the Public Safety Section of the National Council.

The various details of signaling covered in the report were signs and signals on the highway, signals given by traffic officers, roadway construction, and a complete traffic code.

Regarding Traffic Lights.

Talbert pointed out in his address that many accidents are caused through red lights being used as danger signals and also as tail lights on automobiles. He said that a different colored light should be used for the rear lights on automobiles.

"The estimated vehicles now registered in the United States are approximately 11,000,000," Talbert said. "Ninety per cent of these are confined in their movement to 10 per cent of the roadways. There are at least five common faults which a road builder might help to eliminate.

These are: Short-sight distances on curves, insufficient width in pavement in congested districts, inadequate placing of danger signs and railroad grade crossings. Detours also should be confined to one direction.

"The National Safety Council should make a complete investigation and report upon the present status of the entire subject. Eventually a great many of the difficulties now in the way of safe driving and touring would be eliminated."

The St. Louis delegation of 55 men and women, which is the largest attending the convention, has taken under consideration many plans which will be studied upon the return of the safety experts to St. Louis, some of which, no doubt, will be adopted there.

Another Possibility.

Director of Street and Sewers Fisk and Maj. Gerk, Inspector of the Police Department, have made detailed studies of public-safety plans of Detroit and other large centers, and are considering inaugurating some changes in St. Louis which are expected to facilitate traffic, with a maximum of safety.

W. L. Patterson, safety engineer of the St. Louis Safety Council, and Maj. Gerk are considering the possibility of erecting signaling towers in parts of the downtown district like those now used on Fifth avenue, New York City. These towers would control traffic for several blocks each way.

Another possibility for St. Louis as an outgrowth of conferences during the convention is the proposed establishing of a traffic court, is operated in Detroit. Judge Bartell of that court sentences traffic violators to impose heavy fines. In some cases or other violators are ordered to be sent to jail. In St. Louis, however, an amendment to the charter would be necessary.

establishing of a traffic court such as is operated in Detroit. The court would sentence traffic violators to jail or to impose heavy fines. In order to enforce such a law, it is necessary to have a sufficient number of police officers to be sent to jail in St. Louis, however, an amendment to the charter would be necessary.

COLUMBIA TAXI CHAUFFEUR
FIRE UPON AND PURSUED
Chased by Two Men and Woman in House—Strike in Progress.
Louis Williamson, chauffeur employed by the Columbia Taxicab Co., 3300 Pine street, reported to the police last night he had been fired upon several times, pursued, and shot at again by two men and a woman in a coupe shortly after 10
p. m.
He was driving one of the taxicabs east in the 4600 block on McPherson avenue, he said, when the trio appeared first, ran their machine alongside the taxicab, and fired several shots into the driver's compartment.
"You're a scab, aren't you?"
one of the men yelled at him just preceding the shots, he reported.
He sped away from the spot and went to Taylor avenue and north to Washington boulevard and thence east, he said, pursued by the trio

in the Ford. When near 4330
ington boulevard he was crowded into the curb, he said, and stopped his machine, got out and took refuge in the house there. A pursing shot was fired at him as he made a run for the house, he said.
None of the bullets took effect. The taxicab was damaged to the extent of about $50, it was estimated.
Union chauffeurs for the company have been on strike since early in the year.
Veteran War Charger Dead.
By the Associated Press.
FREMONT, O., Sept. 1.—Black Youco, Co. Webb C. Hayes' charger throughout the Cuban and Porto Rican campaigns, and during the Philippine insurrection 25 years ago, is dead and has been buried with full military honors. The flag of his country was draped about the body of the veteran as he was lowered to his grave. Black Youco is said to have been one of the most traveling horses in the world.

TRUCK KILLS BOY, 4, WHO FELL
IN ATTEMPT TO CLIMB ABOARD
Witness Corroborates Driver's Story
That He Had Put Lead Off
Before He Started.
Russell Gleason, 4-year-old son of Mrs. Viola Gleason, 2809 Blair avenue, was crushed to death at 1:30
p. m. yesterday under a wheel of a one and one-half ton truck, on which he had tried to climb, in front of 1435 St. Louis avenue. The truck was driven by Robert C. Tinsley, 32 years old, 201 Elchberger avenue, a chauffeur employed by the Coca-Cola Bottling Co., 1115 Clark avenue.
The truck had been stopped in front of 1435 St. Louis avenue. Tinsley told the police, while he made a delivery to the store at that address. When he returned to the truck he found the Gleason child on the running board. Tinsley said he lifted the child to the curb and then started the truck. He had driven only four or five feet when he felt a bump, stopped, and found the right rear wheel of the truck had passed over the boy, causing instant death.
Tinsley took the body to the Gleason home.
N. W. Trevon, who was seated on the porch of his home, 1438 St. Louis avenue, corroborated Tinsley's story.
He said the boy tried to climb back on the truck as it started and fell to the street under a wheel. Mrs. Gleason is divorced from her husband, John, whose present location is not known. Custody of the boy, her only child, was awarded to her by a court order.

Father Kuhlman's Successor Named.
Archbishop Glennon yesterday appointed the Rev. J. P. Spencer, assistant priest at Sacred Heart Church, as pastor of St. Roch's Church, 6060 Waterman avenue. He succeeds the Rev. Father George P.
Kuhlman, who died last week. The Rev. Mr. Spencer was an assistant priest at the New Cathedral for several years before being transferred to Sacred Heart Church.

Time to Face the Facts
"So much has been said against the use of patent medicines that I have had a strong prejudice against them. But after four years' doctoring with six different doctors, without results, for acute indigestion, gastritis, constipation, appendicitis and other ailments, I was told to possess myself of a bottle of "Wurlicol." Wonderful! Really, seeing what it had done for a friend similarly afflicted, I also was entirely relieved of my trouble, and am sure this medicine will do all ailments that are claimed for it." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhs from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will soothe the most agonizing pain.

BOLL WEEVIL POISON IS MORE EVENLY DISTRIBUTED BY PLANE

Experts Also Say It Is Probable Less Poison Is Required by New Method.

By the Associated Press
GREENVILLE, Miss., Sept. 1.—
Use of an airplane produces a more even distribution of the poison used in the fight against the boll weevil, according to experts who watched the demonstration given on a 14,000 acre cotton plantation near Scott yesterday. It is probable that less poison may be used by this method, they assert because of the action of the air currents in the wake of the planes.

E. R. Coad, director of the Government laboratories at Tullulah, La., was in charge of the experiment which was a continuation of a test held Wednesday on the same plantation.
Lieut. Guy McNeill, of the army flying corps, directed the flight of the planes. It is recognized by the Government experts and others interested that the work is in the experimental stage. The cost per acre has not yet been figured closely.

NEIGHBORHOOD AROUSED OVER NEGRO PICNICS

O'Fallon Park Protective Association Will Seek to Have Number Curtailed.

Action to be taken in an attempt to prohibit or curtail the number of negro picnics in O'Fallon Park will be considered at a mass meeting to be held in the Pilgrim Evangelical Lutheran Church next Wednesday night by the O'Fallon Park Protective Association, formed for this purpose.

Members of the organization, said by its officers to include 1500 North St. Louis residents, declare 69 picnics have been held by negroes in the 108 days since May 15, while only a few have been held in other parks. Speakers at a recent meeting asserted the merry-makers continued their jazz band music, songs and shouting far into the night, making sleep impossible and "conditions intolerable."

Proposed Moves.
 Among the moves believed likely to be advocated at the next meeting will be one calling on Park Commissioner Pape to close the park entirely to negro picnickers, or, if that is not possible, to prohibit picnics of any races there.

The Board of Aldermen also may be asked to set aside a sum in the proposed municipal bond issue to buy a park for the exclusive use of negroes. Five million dollars was suggested for this purpose at the last meeting.

Association Affirms View.
 Frank A. Scharlott, proprietor of a notions store at 342 West Florissant avenue and secretary of the new association, said today that efforts had been made for three years to have the Park Commissioner hold down the number of negro picnics. "Instead, he's come to giving us almost all of them," Scharlott said. "Many on days with our largest white ones. I understand picnic permit records show 32 issued for 1921 and now it's 69 so far this year. E. M. Hoffmann of 430 Red Bud avenue, is president of the association. Mathew Woelfle is vice president and A. W. Keller treasurer.

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Multified in a cup of glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess-oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Multified.

RIVER STAGES DO NOT REVEAL DEPTHS, AS MANY BELIEVE

Experts Explain How What Was Low Water When Gauges Were Put In May Be Deep Now.

River stages do not indicate the depth of the water, as most persons believe, but only record the rise and decline from low-water marks when the gauges were installed along the rivers, according to Col. Charles S. Potter, chairman, and John A. Ockerson, a member of the Mississippi River Commission.

Both officials explained there was no standard method of rating the stages of rivers because water conditions were different at almost every place where the stages were recorded. They said low-water records are different at nearly every point on rivers where there is a gauge.

When river gauges were installed many years ago, Col. Potter said, they were started with zero point at the lowest water recorded at each individual place, and this method has not been changed up to the present time because the low-water marks for the various gauge points are changing continually, and it would require too much work to reset the gauges with the change of the records.

"Most persons believe the stage of the river means the depth of the water, but this is not so," Col. Potter continued. "The real depth of rivers may be many more feet than the gauge indicates, as the gauges were installed many years ago, when low water at a certain point then may be deep water now, owing to the shifting of the scour."

TAXING POWER OF ST. LOUIS IN DANGER OF BEING REDUCED IN NEW STATE CONSTITUTION

Rural Delegates Have Decided Tentatively on Maximum Rate of 90 Cents on $100 for City Purposes—Present Levy $1.35.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 1.—Rural members of the taxation committee of the Constitutional Convention have committed that subdivision of the convention to a county and municipal taxing system which may reduce the taxing power of St. Louis down to a point seriously jeopardizing the continuation of some of the city institutions as now maintained, St. Louis delegates say.

Cities Ignored at First.
This is the committee, it will be recalled, on which President C. M. Shartel and Vice President Myers Cunningham virtually ignored the three large cities of the State in the beginning, increasing the committee to 18 members and adding two additional city members, besides the one first appointed, after the Post-Dispatch had directed attention to the fact that 15 of the 16 memberships on the committee had gone to the country.

So far as the tax rights of St. Louis are concerned, Fred G. Zeigler of St. Louis, a real estate man, has made the fight practically unaided, except for some assistance lent by City Counselor Henry S. Caulfield, who came here and addressed the committee, and the aid of Ralph Wommach of Bloomfield, and one or two other rural delegates. Jay Elmore Fox of St. Louis, an insurance agent, and Solon T. Gilmore of Kansas City, are the other city members of the committee. Zeigler, however, has had to carry the load, and has attended practically every session of the committee.

Report of Charges.
From what the correspondent has been able to learn the British Government several weeks ago filed with the State Department an alleged statement that Slater and Brooks had secured the passports of persons bound to go to America unless they went on United States ships. It is within the power of any Government to revoke exequaturs without giving reason, but in this instance charges were lodged.

There is much mystery as to who made the charges against the consular agents to the British Government, but from what can be learned from shipping interests are at the disposal of the United States Government practically in the shipping business all consular offices are said to have the right to refuse to issue passports to persons going to America unless they travel on American vessels.

Slater's Statement.
The consular agency which represents not only American but other nations recently took offices in the building in which the American consulate is situated and this led to charges by some of the British in that the consulate was working directly with this agency.

The effect of the closing of one of the most important American consulates in the United Kingdom is expected to be far-reaching. It will mean that great shipping interests will have to go to Hull to obtain exequaturs and it is certain that the United States Government cannot reopen the Newcastle Consulate, it will result in a loss of thousands of dollars to this big shipping center.

The Daily Chronicle says that Slater, the American Consul at Newcastle, in an interview last week said with regard to the withdrawal of his exequatur: "The only reason I know for the step taken by the British Government is that I was suspected of being the American lines. This is a baseless charge."

The Department is Investigating Charges Against Consuls.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The State Department has ordered the American consulate at Newcastle, England, temporarily closed, and is receiving complaints said to have been made by the British Government that consular officials have been improperly influencing subjects to patronize the shipping Board vessels.

Temporary closing of the consulate was said at the department due to the fact that this building at the present time was being used to appoint a new Consul for Newcastle for that post. Slater, heretofore Consul at Newcastle, has been transferred to London, Spain, and Vice Consul M. Brooks has been

GERMANY GRANTED SUSPENSION OF CASH PAYMENTS

Moratorium Refused, but Reparations Body Decides to Allow Short-Term Note Payment to Belgium.

"LIBERTY OF ACTION" RESERVED BY FRANCE

Cabinet Takes Cognizance of Action by Commission Without Approval or Disapproval—Conference Proposed.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 1.—The French cabinet today simply "took cognizance" of the decision of the Reparations Commission on the German moratorium question, neither approving nor disapproving it. It specifically reserved "entire liberty of action."

The cabinet held that inasmuch as no moratorium had been granted to Germany, it could only recognize the situation, but it insisted that a conference should be called, attended by "all the allies without exception" at which the question of inter-allied debt and reparations should be fully considered.

The decision of the Reparations Commission yesterday suspended further cash payments from Germany this year on the condition that Belgium's priority claims be met with short-term notes.

Poincare Won Over.
Premier Poincare was won over to the settlement yesterday only after definite statement had been circulated in allied circles that independent action by France against Germany at the present juncture would be construed in London and Rome as nullification of the treaty of Versailles.

The first effect of the decision is to take the reparations question out of the hands of the commission. Belgium is left to determine what guarantees she deems necessary.

Should the two countries fail to agree on the necessary guarantees, Germany then is required to deposit an unfixed sum of gold with some foreign bank approved by Belgium. It is believed that a speedy agreement will be reached.

The decision also anticipates an allied conference in the near future at which a reduction of the indemnity to about 50 billion gold marks and the settlement by cancellation of the inter-allied debts will be undertaken.

German Loans Expected.
The relief granted at the present time is for the purpose of giving the commission time in which to complete the new scheme of reform in Germany and the opportunity of carrying it out.

The commission expects that these reforms and the relief afforded by the virtual moratorium for the remainder of this year will permit Germany to float large external and internal loans.

The manner in which the decision was arrived at was dramatic. M. Dubois, the French representative and president of the commission, held up the meeting for an hour and a half while he pleaded with Poincare to accept the compromise, and thereby prevent against Germany the united front of the Euxine.

Dubois returned to the meeting on the run and when he breathlessly announced the French acceptance, the members of the commission restrained a cheer with the greatest difficulty and immediately took their unanimous decision.

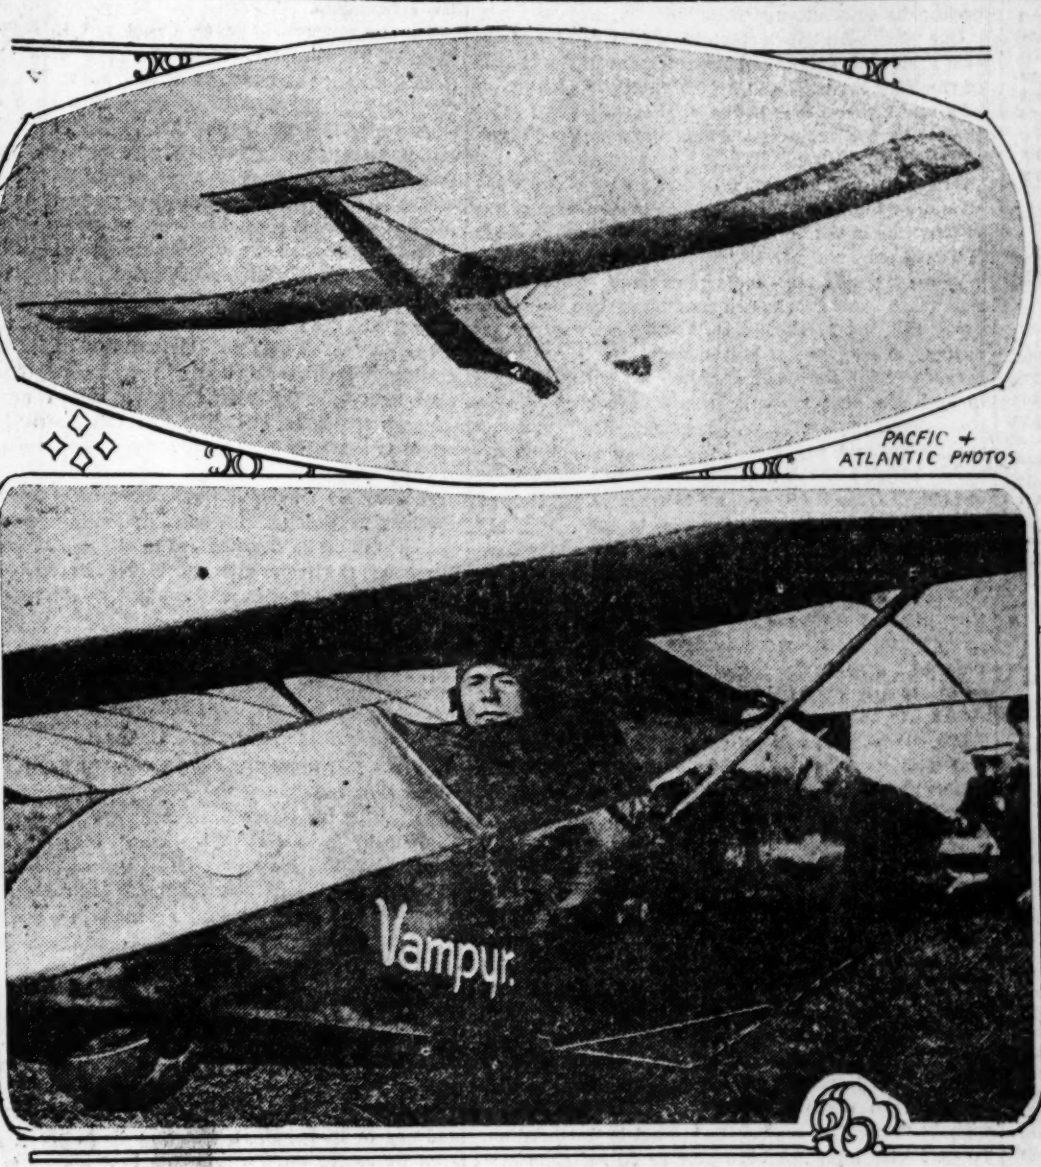

While political circles generally are favorably impressed by the agreement, it is received with anything but enthusiasm by the press this morning. The general sentiment is summed up by Eugene Lautier in L'Homme Libre with the sentence: "What the Germans asked has been refused them in Latin, but granted in French."

Text of Decision by the Reparations Commission.
By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Sept. 1.—The text of the Reparations Commission's decision yesterday reads:

The Reparations Commission, after examining the new request for a moratorium, dated July 12, 1922, and taking into account the fact that the German state has lost its credit, both internal and external, and that the mark has depreciated continuously, down to three one-thousandths of its normal value, decides:

"Firstly—To defer its decision on the request of the German Government until the commission has completed its scheme for the radical reform of German public finances, including:

First Photographs of German Glider in Air When He Stayed Up Longer Than Three Hours

Confessing ignorance of the laws of physics which made his feat possible, F. W. Hentzen, a student of Hannover, Germany, shattered his own and the world's record when he climbed 1200 feet recently in his motorless "Vampyr" sailplane and remained aloft three hours and six minutes. He descended only because of darkness. These photographs, showing a closeup of Hentzen in his plane and his plane aloft, were the first to arrive from Gersfeld, Germany, where the pictures were taken.

BREWSTER CLUB SPENT $25,927 IN CAMPAIGN

Successful Candidate's Personal Account Showed Total of Only $590.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 1.—The campaign expenses of the "Brewster-for-Senator" Club, which supported R. R. Brewster, successful candidate for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate, were $25,927, according to a report filed with the Recorder last yesterday.

The report was filed by Charles Morris of St. Joseph, Bayard Taylor of the club, and E. H. Busiek, treasurer of the local Brewster club. The money was apportioned as follows: $12,587 to the State Club, which was used in the 114 counties of the State, and $8340 to the local club.

Brewster in his expense account filed at Jefferson City, reported expenditures of $590.

William Sacks, runner-up for the nomination, reported expenditures of $12,355.35 in his statement filed at the Capital.

arations commission giving their prior consent thereto, reduction of Germany's foreign obligations in so far as may be considered necessary for the restoration of her credit.

(c) Currency reform.
(d) The issue of foreign and internal loans in order to consolidate the financial situation.

"Secondly—With a view to giving time for the payment of the carrying out of the measures referred to under paragraph 1 above, the commission agrees to accept in payment of the cash installments falling due Aug. 15 and Dec. 31, 1922, German Government treasury bills due at the end of six months' duration, in such manner as may be agreed upon between the German Government and the Government of Belgium (to which power the payments have been assigned)."

Bradbury's Statement.
Sir John Bradbury said to the Associated Press correspondent:

"The effect of this arrangement is that Germany gets a respite for the remaining cash payments due this year, provided she can find suitable guarantees for the payment of the bills due at the end of six months under the decision. The question now leaves the commission and becomes a matter for direct negotiations between the Berlin and Belgian Governments."

PUBLIC SCHOOLS TO OPEN NEXT TUESDAY

Enrollment of More Than 110,000 Predicted, 15,500 of These in High Schools.

The St. Louis Public Schools will begin the school year of 1922-23 on Tuesday with an estimated total enrollment of more than 110,000 students. Of this number about 15,500 will be entered at the six high schools, which is an estimated increase of about 1500 preparatory school pupils over last year.

One new school building, the Calvin Woodward at 700 Bates street, which will be a grade school, will be opened. It takes the place of 12 portable school buildings, also called the Woodward School, which housed children in the same school district.

This school is named for Calvin Woodward, who was president of the Board of Education in 1897, one time dean of the engineering school of Washington University and founder of the manual training course of study in America. Walter E. Wilcox, who was principal of the portables, will hold the same office in the new building.

No changes are contemplated among the executives of either the high or grade schools. Two vacancies remain for the principalship of grade schools as no one has been appointed to take the places of Miss Kate O'Neil of the Divoll School and of Louis W. Teutberg of the Arlington School, both of whom died last spring.

No successor has been appointed to Dr. E. George Pringle, who last June resigned as principal of Harris Teachers' College, so he might join the faculty of the department of education of New York University.

The curriculums of the high schools and the courses of study in the elementary schools will remain the same as last year. Seven courses will be offered in the high schools. In this group are included general, classical, commercial and manual training courses, all of four years' duration. Five short courses also are given. Night school work will not begin until Sept. 18.

Crowded conditions still prevail in the high schools. They were constructed to care for a total of 9500 pupils and the enrollment has increased to more than an added 50 per cent of their contemplated maximum housing capacity.

MAPS ENABLE GLIDERS TO SEEK AIR CURRENTS

German Authority on Air Currents Tells How Soaring Is Accomplished.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.
(Copyright, 1922.)
GERSFELD, Germany, Sept. 1.—Prof. Walter Georgia, the noted meteorologist, who was the chief student of air currents for the German air soaring competition held here, has explained to the correspondent for the Post-Dispatch how the feat of soaring indefinitely had been made possible by the use of maps of the air currents.

"Every glider who is soaring in Rhoeen," he said, "is given a map of the air currents and air holes. The map is prepared with the aid of small balloons and statistics collected in the last three years."

"The soarer knows where to go to catch the upper currents and what to avoid. When Hentzen made his three-hour flight, he knew when he left the earth where to find a strong upper current. When he had been carried to the top of the current he knew beforehand where to turn to get a new up-current. There is no limit to the possibilities of remaining in the air when the wind makes the currents strong enough."

"Soaring needs a heavy breeze, eight meters to the second, about 17 miles an hour. When Hentzen made his three-hour flight he descended because of the coming of darkness. With the wind blowing he could remain in the air with equal ease for three days."

REPUBLICAN METHODS ASSAILED
Oklahoma Governor Urges Democrats to Take Issue With "Character Assassination."

By the Associated Press.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Sept. 1.—Gov. J. R. A. Robertson, in a speech here yesterday before the League of Young Democrats, advised Democrats to take issue with Republicans in "a campaign of character assassination" which he said the Republicans had launched in the hope of winning in the State election.

"If the Republicans want to conduct a campaign of character assassination, as indicated by their platform adopted Monday, I for one am in favor of joining issue and retaliating," said the Governor.

"I have committed some acts as Governor that might be construed as illegal, but I committed them in order to save some high Republicans from prosecution and I did it for the sake of their families."

YEARLY ANIMAL LOSS IS ESTIMATED AT $200,000,000

Disease, Accidents and Neglect Given as Causes by Speaker at Veterinary Convention.

SAYS MOST OF LOSS COULD BE AVOIDED

Dr. John R. Mohler Declares Application of Present Knowledge Would Help—Sessions Close Today.

Although much progress has been made in eliminating animal diseases, the losses in the United States from disease, accidents and neglect of animals annually amount to more than $200,000,000, Dr. John R. Mohler of Washington, D. C., chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, declared today in an address at the Platters Hotel before the convention of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Most of these losses could be prevented, he said, with proper application of present knowledge of diseases, sanitation and care of animals. Domestic animal population of the United States on January 1 of this year was estimated at 183,000,000, or approximately one and two-thirds times the human population.

In discussing dairy cattle, Dr. Mohler said the production of dairy cattle for every 1000 population has decreased materially in 50 years, but in the same period the production of milk per animal had more than doubled. The average milk production per cow still is less than 4000 pounds a year, scarcely half the product of a first-class dairy cow. Standards in the industry are being raised, he said, through better breeding and more care in raising the calves.

Auto and Horse Not Rivals.
The demand for draft animals, Dr. Mohler added, is stimulating increased breeding. He agreed with the views of other convention speakers that the automobile was creating no serious threat of eliminating the horse. Dr. Mohler said from seventeen to nineteen million draft animals are required on farms to handle the work of crop production, and two or three million more are needed for non-agricultural work. The 1920 census showed the horse and mule population of the country to be 27,282,412.

Dr. J. G. Fernyhough of Richmond, Va., described the practicing veterinarian as "the pillar of the profession," in an address today. He urged co-operation between practicing veterinarians and those holding public office or college chairs, to not only improve the profession but the veterinarian's standing.

Veterinarians were urged to go before the legislatures of every state and obtain legislation that would prevent unqualified men from practicing as veterinarians.

BUSINESS WAS SOUND IN AUGUST DESPITE HANDICAP

Summary Issued by Federal Reserve Board Declares Agricultural Prospects Satisfactory.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Business necessarily must proceed under handicaps for some time, to come as a result of fuel shortages and transportation difficulties, according to the summary of financial and business conditions throughout the country during August, issued last night by the Federal Reserve Board.

The outstanding feature of the month, the board declared, has been the inherent soundness the general business situation has manifested in the face of difficulties. "This has been shown," the board said, "by the continuance of activity at a relatively high level despite labor disturbances and despite the fact some recession of activity is normally to be expected at this season. Agricultural prospects, on the whole, continue very satisfactory. There was a notable improvement in the condition of the corn crop during July and the spring wheat crop promises to be unusually large. It is impossible as yet to estimate definitely the final yield of the cotton crop, but the weevil damage has been less than anticipated."

BUYS 28 PLANES FOR POLITICS

By the Associated Press.
AMERICUS, Ga., Sept. 1.—Congressman Manuel Herrick of Oklahoma, who attended the Government sale of aircraft and other property at Southern Field yesterday bought 28 airplanes, which he says he will use for political purposes in Oklahoma and other States.

In all, $125,000 worth of aircraft, machinery and surplus stock was sold by the Government. Airplanes without motor and propeller sold at $250 each. The motors and propellers were sold separately.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Primary Statistics.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE primary statistics article presented in the Post-Dispatch of Aug. 17, with the purpose of promoting Democratic discord by showing that Senator Reed must owe his nomination to an enormous Republican vote cast for him, was as interesting in what it omitted from the discussion of the returns as what it included.

With your permission I will set down here some comparisons from which, I hope, the reader will be able to draw his own conclusions as to the integrity of the Democratic primary results:

Democratic Senatorial vote.....399,047
Republican Senatorial vote.....297,313
Difference.....101,734
Democratic Supreme Judge, Div. 1, 1924, 1925
Republican Supreme Judge, Div. 1, 1924, 1925
Difference.....146,384
Democratic Judges, Div. 2.....315,040
Republican Judges, Div. 2.....231,732
Difference.....83,308
State School Superintendent, Dem. 348,436
State School Superintendent, Rep. 288,131
Difference.....60,305

From the foregoing it will be seen that the Democratic vote in the primary was greater than the Republican for the same offices, all the way from 60,305 in the case of State Superintendent of Public Schools to 146,384 in the case of Judge Ragland for Division No. 1 of the Supreme Court. In comparison with their vote for Judge Ragland, the Democrats were able to increase their senatorial ballot by only 142, whereas from the like starting point the Republicans accomplished a gain of 19,142 votes for Senator. Therefore, if Reed absorbed any considerable part of the Republican party, Judge Ragland practically matched him in that regard. And who impugns the Judge's Democracy?

On the other hand, the Democrats were able to poll 81,007 more votes for Senator than for the two (Division No. 2) Supreme Court Judges, against a Republican increase of the like score of 35,591 votes. But the extreme Democratic "low" was on these judgeships, which were contested for by eight Democrats, with resulting confusion to voters and the loss of many thousands of votes to this part of the ticket. The same was true of the State Superintendent of Public Schools. This too, notwithstanding that the Democratic candidates for the latter position measured their vote-getting strength, in a statistical sense, with the strongest man on the Republican ballot, the one aspirant of his party for the office and his popular present incumbent.

The truth of the matter seems to be that the eccentric primary results were almost entirely due to too many names on the tickets of people not well known to the voters, so that there was lack of personal interest as to lots of the candidates as well as lack of understanding as to how to properly mark the ballots. But Jim Reed is to blame for this, of course.

A Stressful Experience.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I FEEL that more stress should be put on the elimination of glaring headlines. On at least four occasions last evening I was compelled to bring my car to a dead stop to avoid taking a chance of going in the ditch. Hoping you will give this your usual prompt support. AN AUTOMOBILE OWNER.

An Indicted Man's Pleat.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

WHEN I was a boy, about 13 years old, two other boys and myself went to a merchant's watermelon patch and ate two or three of his melons. A short time after I heard that he knew who had eaten the melons. I went to him, and admitted that I was the culprit. He was somewhat surprised and said he knew nothing about it. I was admonished that honesty was best policy.

Twenty-two years have elapsed since that day, and I have stuck to the old adage. I have searched my heart, and can truthfully state, regardless of what anyone may say to the contrary, that I have never stolen or obtained a cent dishonestly in my life.

I have been employed in the railway mail service 15 years. The latter part of April, this year, Postoffice inspectors accused me of holding up a train two years ago. I was discharged without further ceremony.

I am innocent of this crime. I am charged by an indictment of stealing U. S. money, jewelry and bonds to the amount of $40,000. I have $123 in the bank. That is every dollar that I possess. The largest sum I have ever had was $400 and I earned every cent of it.

I have two children, 6 and 4 years of age. My wife is an invalid, suffering with cancer. I need employment. When I apply for a position I tell the truth, but never get work. "Is honesty best policy?"

Fire the Bride.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I SAT shake hands with the official who fired his stenographer when she married. A married woman's duty is to make a home; and I say take off your hat to Sophie Irene Lock, who says you can't serve two masters. It is not a home but merely a stopping place where man and wife both work. A married woman should be ashamed to work, and her husband ashamed to allow her to. I say fire them, every one.

A STRIKE VICTIMS' REVOLT.

A group of people in Illinois have initiated an organization to be known as the Society of American Commonwealth and to be recruited throughout the United States, the only requirement for membership being that the candidate shall be an American citizen at least 18 years of age and that he or she shall be neither a member of a labor union nor one of the "capitalistic" class employing labor. The society is a reaction to the numerous strikes which have afflicted the country, and its object is "to awaken the great masses to dangers we are facing because of wasteful, useless, havoc-making strikes."

One of the first important industrial results of the coal mine strike was the announcement of the closing of the Ford motor plants, which entails the laying off of a vast army of men in the Ford factories and other armies in the industries which produce Ford's materials.

Another one of the signal results of the two great strikes in the basic industries but particularly of the mine strike is the bankruptcy of the Chicago & Alton Railroad.

These are only outstanding instances. They represent what has happened in greater or less degree to every railroad in the country and nearly every industry. A shortage of building material is predicted because of the necessity of an excess of freight cars to haul coal that normally would have been moving throughout the spring and summer. State highway superintendents say road construction has been arrested because of the inability to secure shipments of cement. Of the 7000 men and 1400 teams working on Illinois roads nearly half have been laid off. Railroad wrecks not only have destroyed property and wasted money, but have induced suspension of travel. An enormous amount of farm produce has perished for want of ready traffic facilities. Even if the great majority of railroads escape bankruptcy, what hope can there be for the reduction of freight rates which was so confidently expected before strike wastage began?

There is not a self-supporting person in the United States, except the usual cormorants who fatten on general misfortune, whose income will not be adversely affected by the strikes. To many they will mean loss of employment and the pinch of poverty.

What, then, is the hope of preventing the recurrence of these devastating economic calamities? Is there any hope in the Government? Political governments have little respect for anything that is not organized. Capital and labor are organized. The people in between who depend on their efficiency and the merit of their service to make a living and who have no financial end at stake in reducing or keeping down the income of others, though in the vast majority, are unorganized. Can they put men in power who, with a strong but just, democratic hand, can lead the way to industrial peace and the elimination of strikes, without themselves organizing? That is the question. To date they have not been able to do so. The new Society of American Commonwealth, therefore, has a field. The idea is worth a trial.

In view of his tariff record, Senator Johnson seems to have made a successful campaign on the slogan: "Win with high prunes and Hiram."

A ST. LOUIS CHAMPION.

The triumph of Eddie Held in the national public links golf tournament at Toledo brings a national championship to St. Louis. But aside from that, his victory will be exceptionally popular with the sporting population of the city. Eddie has won every step of his way to the top. He was a caddy—as so many of our golf champions have been. He learned his game on the flinty fairways and ragged greens of the Spartan Forest Park course. No yielding turf caressed his malleable niblick; no immaculately barbered greens steadied his putts. It was a hard school—but a good one.

This 19-year-old, 120-pound strapping, it should be said, is of the adamant stuff of champions. In his case, confidence is tempered by modesty; yet he has repeatedly shown the steely nerve that weathers adversity and tells in the "pinch." He is there. We're glad he won, and we believe that the future has large prospects for him.

SAFEGUARDING THE REFERENDUM.

The Constitution convention has wisely rejected a proposal to vest in the Legislature the power to exempt legislation from referendum without review by the courts. The point was well taken that the proposal meant usurpation by the Legislature of the power of the courts to pass upon the constitutionality of a part of the law. The further argument, too, was unanswerable that such power would seriously abridge the referendum.

The convention, however, ought not to leave unchanged the present referendum provision of the Constitution. The members of the convention are all familiar with the abusive practices that have developed under this provision. Those practices will, of course, persist until prevented, and we shall continue to witness the spectacle of a legislative session's work voided temporarily or permanently through the activity of a negligible special interest—a perversion never contemplated when the referendum was adopted.

The real theory of the referendum is protection for the public against flagrant legislative blundering or corruption. The instrument was designed to estop the operation of acts so objectionable as to arouse a wide and vigorous popular resentment. For unusual laws passed under misapprehension or some unusual stress of circumstances the corrective of repeal is available now as it always has been and is entirely adequate.

Through its misuse the referendum has become a mischievous agency. Its conscription to serve special ends could be thwarted, at least, by substantially increasing the required number of signatures to the petitions. Our experience shows that such a safeguard is needed.

The aerial flyover, we are told, will cruise at modest altitudes, and the phrase, "highflyer," will still retain its original implication.

MURDERERS, NOT MINERS.

The first indictment returned by the grand jury investigating the Herrin massacre, which was quickly followed by the arrest of the man on the charge of murder, has had a striking effect upon the community attitude towards the inquiry. Indifference has given way to surprise and anxious interest. The grand jury has given a convincing earnest of its determination to do its duty.

Among the developments that have attracted attention since the grand jury began its work is the appearance of several officers of the United Mine Workers of Illinois, including Frank Farrington, the president of the organization. In an explanatory statement Mr. Farrington says that the union will defend any of its members who may be indicted, justifying its course on the principle that a man is presumed innocent until proven guilty. No exception can be taken to that position. But Mr. Farrington misrepresents this logical legal procedure and misrepresents its purpose when he talks of "the magnitude of the forces that have combined to convict our members."

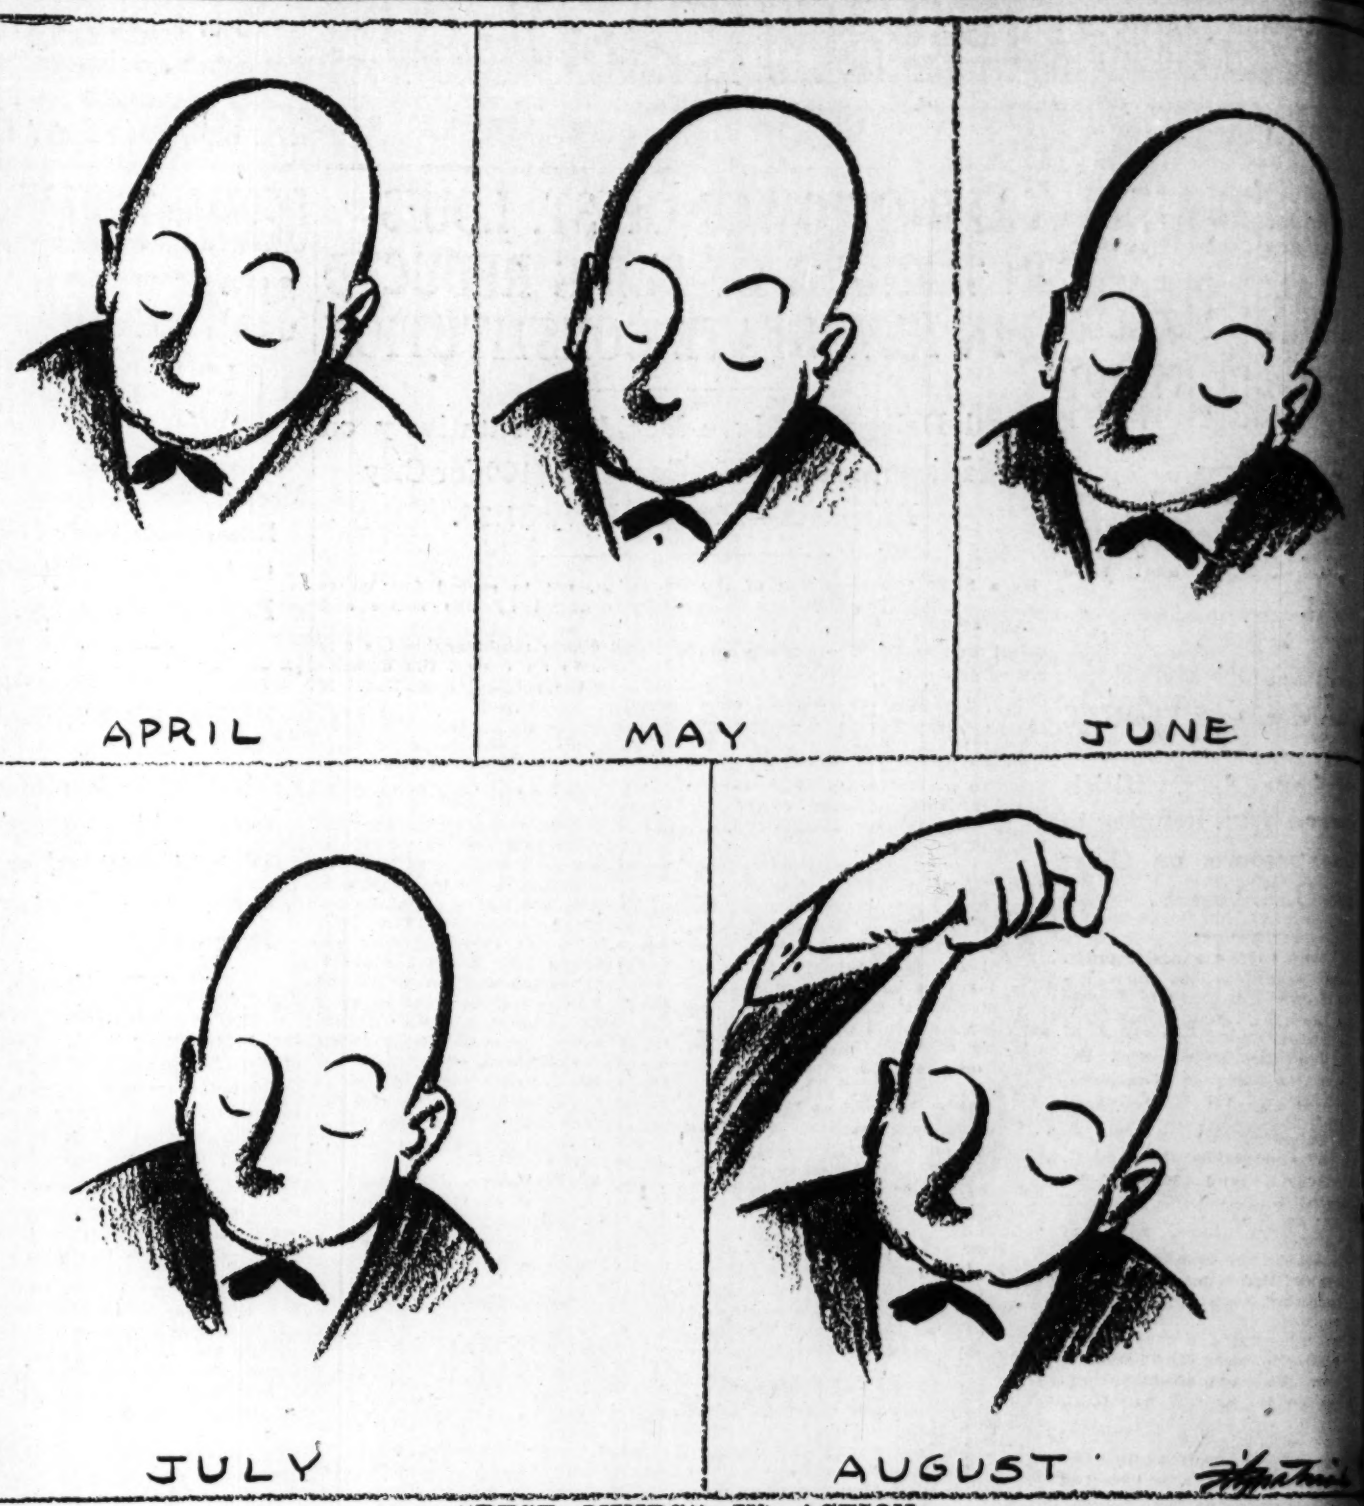

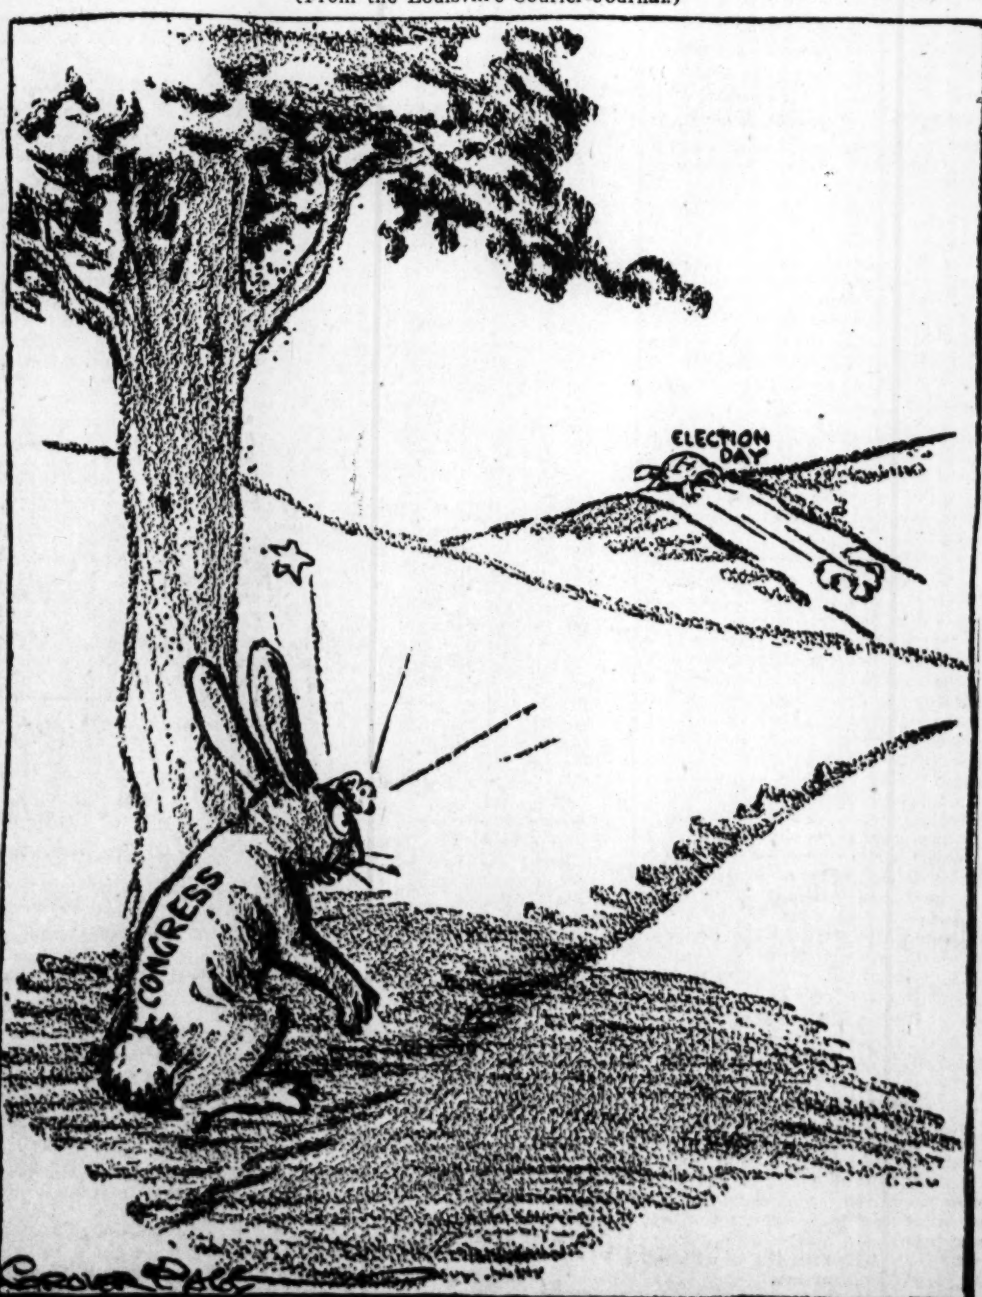

The law is not proceeding in this case against the members of the miners' union. What the law is trying to do, in the name of justice, is to identify the murderers of the men who were killed in the shocking orgy near Herrin. Their union membership, if they are members of the union, does not enter into the question at all. The union, however, can be involved in this horror if it puts itself in the position of endorsing such butchery.

There is no combination of forces to convict union miners of this hideous slaughter. But all citizens everywhere with any pretense of decency, with any regard for the sacredness of human life, are still aghast at the murderous brutality of that June day near Herrin and they insist that no effort be spared to find the perpetrators, establish their guilt and punish them to the full extent of the law.

The criminals whom the grand jury at Marion is seeking are murderers, not miners.

By Clark McDanna

MR. ANTWINE'S OPINION.

"I look to me as if the railroad strike had somehow fallen upon us as a consequence of our thoroughgoing bad faith in pretty much everything," Mr. Antwine said.

"Had we been a people who believe in keeping faith and whose habit it is to keep faith the Railroad Labor Board would have been hailed by both sides as a means to peace in the vexing matter of what railroad employees ought to be paid."

"So far as I can see there has been no disposition anywhere so to regard it. Rather has it been looked upon as something inflicted upon both sides by Congress. Since most of us are powerless in the emergency and can do nothing better than argue, suppose we say for the sake of argument that every ruling of the Railroad Labor Board had been observed both by the railroad executives and the employees. Is it likely that in this case we would have had a strike?"

"It is not likely. In my humble opinion. Sometimes I wonder what sort of men railroad executives are. They can't be very shrewd men. Had they been very shrewd men they would have seen in the creation of the Railroad Labor Board a great opportunity to make peace in the railroad world without damage to railroad investment. They would have said to themselves, 'Here is what we have never had—a tribunal to judge the disputes between railroad capital and railroad labor. Let us by all means accord this tribunal respect and stability by observing punctiliously upon our part every ruling it makes. We will thereby make possible justice, from which capital has nothing to fear.'"

"It was precisely the opposite policy that the railroad executives followed. They ignored the rulings of the board and then expected the railroad employees to abide by them. The employees were almost equally blind to their own interest. They should have said at the outset that whether the executives abided by the rulings of the board or not, they, the employees, meant to abide by them."

"That would have put the executives in the way of wisdom. There is a remedy for strikes, and so far as I know there is only one remedy. That is thinking our way out of them. We have had a great deal of feeling in the railroad strike, but no thought. Let us take as an illustration what Mr. Harding feels. Is that the way out, or is it merely the way around inside?"

"I wish all the principals in this matter would invite our two-story thinkers in. We would be very glad to advise them. We would tell them simply to return to the point where they went astray and pledge themselves to abide by the decisions of the Railroad Labor Board. One side has just as much chance as the other to influence the decisions of that board, and both sides know that is all the chance either will ever have. All the rest of us stand in the same relation to the United States Supreme Court, and God knows what we would do without it."

Mrs. Philip Rollins, wife of the American artist, protests against the return to long skirts, which she says turn May into December. However, since the short skirt is turning legs into rainbows and drumsticks, something had to be done.

Eddie Held has raised a championship flag in St. Louis, even if our baseball teams have blown in the stretch.

Sir: One of your contemporaries says:

Some of the freak songs of earlier days still linger with us, but are we thankful enough for having moved a hundred years away from those that had choruses of "Rum-ti-diddy-de-rol-te-ti-diddy" and so on?

I had just finished reading that when I looked out of a car and caught this much of a sign about new records just out:

Oogie, Oogie, Wa, Wa (Fox Trot)
Undeadie, und-tee (Fox Trot)

The car went too fast for me to get it all, but where did the writer get that stuff about freak songs? His pipe is out. W. H. S.

ST. LOUIS AND KENTUCKY COAL

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.
ST. LOUIS cannot be blamed for its position against the price of Kentucky coal. St. Louis hope to be accommodated by the Kentucky coal is selling at highly artificial prices. It will continue to do so, to the sorrow of tuckians as well as to the irritation of St. Louis, as a result of a general situation which tuckians greatly regret. If coal in the anthracite and the bituminous America comes to a halt in April, when the price of coal is at its peak, the result must be extortionate prices for coal even near the mines, and prices for coal absolutely prohibitive to other plutocrats who wish to burn it at profit from the anthracite mines. Coal should be continuously and marketed upon such terms consumers would be encouraged to buy between April and September. If they are not, the result must be a continuation of the coal shortage and the price of coal will continue to rise. The business must be made between autumn spring if there is no mining between autumn and autumn.

IN WILLIAMSON COUNTY.

From the Chicago Tribune.
THE State will do the best it can to protect its citizens in Williamson County, where the massacre had substituted the law of the jungle. The great trouble with the county is that it provides protection when the crime might be prevented, and now it requires the individual citizens of the State to provide for the prosecution, but the grand jury has begun. Attorney-General Brundage has accepted the support of the Ku Klux Klan, which has strengthened the weakened local law of law in the county. Some difficulty is in the situation. Part of the community is in the situation. Another part regrets it. The county will not have to its additional record of complete incompetence in such a turn of its laws.

HOBSON'S CHOICE IN TEXAS.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.
THE Democrats of Texas have defeated avowed Ku Klux candidates. They have nominated for the United States Senate a man who has been a member of the Ku Klux Klan. Ferguson, who openly attacked the Ku Klux Klan, has been nominated for the United States Senate. The nomination of Mayfield was a case of Hobson's choice if they were to beat a man Governor had been impeached for corruption. That, under such circumstances, the nomination of Mayfield was not a victory for the Democrats, but a defeat. The Democrats have fully proved by the defeat of every candidate that they are not the party of the Ku Klux Klan. However, the Texans "Hobson's Choice" is not impressive as the "makings" of a man. He appears to be merely the average politician—a poor sort of successor to Ferguson.

OLD VIOLIN HEARD ON K S D PROGRAM

Instrument Older Than Famous Stradivari Played by M. A. Worth.

A violin that is older than the famous Stradivari sang its mellow notes through the microphone at Radio Station K S D last night and added still more dignity to a program that was artistic in every particular and delightful throughout. This beautiful instrument, which is exquisitely carved and inlaid and has instead of the usual scroll at the end of the fingerboard, the carved head of a patriarch, probably the maker of the instrument, is the property of a St. Louisan, M. A. Worth, who played under Dvorak when he was conductor of the New York Philharmonic orchestra, and who has done notable work as a solo violinist elsewhere on the American stage.

Worth took a small part in last night's program, playing only the obligate to the Gounod "Ave Maria" which Mrs. W. E. Hindle sang, and two small solo of his own—the "Berceuse" from Joplin and the "Miserere" from Il Trovatore—but even these showed him to be the master and his instrument to be one of the kings of the violin family. The fiddle is larger than those of the famous Cremona makers, and does not have the graceful sweeping curves of these celebrated instruments, but that it is a priceless treasure is evident by the loving care its owner gives it, and that its tone is as beautiful as that of any of the Stradivari or Guarneri is unquestioned to any discriminating ear.

The program last night was in reality a song recital, with an incidental group of piano numbers by Carl Werner, and the violin group mentioned above. Composed of numbers not usually heard in a concert of this type, the concert was interesting from the first. Mrs. Hindle's voice is a coloratura soprano of much power and considerable range, and she sang the evening program with the same skill and intelligence, as well as extreme good taste. A newcomer to St. Louis, this singer promises to be one of the popular local artists, and those who listened in on her radio concert last night will watch for her further appearances with interest. Mrs. Hindle had excellent assistance in the accompaniment furnished her songs by Werner and her husband.

SECRETARY DAVIS FAVORS
BEER FOR STEEL MILL WORKERS

Stand of Cabinet Official Is Announced in His Autobiography, Now on Presses.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—James J. Davis, Secretary of Labor, announces a stand in favor of beer for steel mill workers in a chapter of his autobiography, "The Iron Furnace," which is now on the presses.

As a preface to his observations, Secretary Davis likened the temperature in the mills in the summer time to the Fourth of July in Abyssinia.

"Water doesn't agree with the stomach as well as does beer," is one sentence in his autobiography where Secretary Davis quotes himself directly in conversation with what he termed an "uplifter."

"You never worked at terrific muscular exertion, handling white hot iron in a mill like this," he asserts, "you haven't got the muscles to do it, and I doubt if you've the heart."

"Some of the men feel that they can't drink water at that time. The alcohol in beer is a blessing at that time. It soothes his laboring stomach until the water can get into his system and quench the man's thirst."

NOTE CHARGE INVOLVES
REAL ESTATE AGENT

Police Begin Search for Virgil L. Richardson After Buyer of Securities Fails to Collect.

The police today broadcast a reward for the arrest of Virgil L. Richardson, 36 years old, of 1221 Montclair avenue, a real estate and loan agent with offices in the Arcade Building, who is wanted to answer a charge involving real estate notes made to them by Henry W. Gilmore of 3374 Delmar boulevard.

Gilmore recited that immediately before Aug. 26, he bought 22 notes of an aggregate face value of $1895 from Richardson, paying $1800. The notes apparently were secured by second deeds of trust on property at 7521 Harter avenue, St. Louis County, owned by Charles W. L. Albert of Ardmore, Ok.

When Gilmore endeavored to collect on the first of the notes, he declared, he was told that the original notes were in the hands of a bank for collection.

The Circuit Attorney's office has promised a warrant when Richardson is found. The police have been informed that Richardson left the city last week in his touring car.

NEGRO SLAYER OF 2 DETECTIVES IS EXECUTED IN NEW YORK

Another Who Killed a Postmaster Also Put to Death at Sing Sing.

By the Associated Press.

OSSINING, N. Y., Sept. 1.—Luther Boddy, negro slayer of William Miller and Francis Buckley, two New York City detectives, and Herbert Smith, convicted for the killing of Postmaster Lewis Johnson at Nineveh Junction, N. Y., in 1919, paid the death penalty in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison last night. Smith's electrocution made the two-hundredth execution in Sing Sing prison since the electric chair first was introduced July 7, 1891.

Both men appeared unmoved up to the time they were led into the death chamber. Smith, who attracted wide attention as a sketch artist while in the death house, passed his last day drawing. When visited by the "Protestant" chaplain, he said that he was "ready to go."

"I did not see anything in the papers this morning in my favor," he said, putting a few finishing touches on a crayon drawing. "So I guess there is nothing doing."

Boddy put in most of the day reading a new book by a popular novelist.

BARTENDER IS SAID TO HAVE HELD GUN THAT WOUNDED MAN
East St. Louis Police Say John Stanton Declared Shooting in Row Was Accidental.
East St. Louis police today said John Stanton, 56 years old, bartender in Albert Barth's saloon, at Fourth street and Trembley avenue, admitted last night that he held the revolver with which Sam D. Connelly, 42, a hostler for the Illinois Central Railroad, was wounded in the abdomen in a fight in the saloon.
Stanton's story, according to the police, is that Connelly got into an argument with Frank Becker, bartender in a saloon at 600 South Main street, and Tom Fitzgerald, as the men were drinking in the Barth saloon, Connelly clinched with Fitzgerald, a much smaller man, and they wrestled to the vestibule doorway, where Connelly is said to have thrust his opponent's head through a glass panel.
Stanton is reported to have said he took a revolver from under the bar and ran to the struggling men in an effort to frighten Connelly with the gun. In his excitement the weapon was discharged, he doesn't know how, and Connelly staggered outside, he said.
Stanton, who was arrested and released after the wounding of Connelly, when he professed to know nothing of it, was rearrested last night after Becker had told of the shooting. Becker told of the fight but declared he did not know who fired the shot. Connelly is expected to recover.

MAN, 78, RUN DOWN BY TRAIN
James Alsot, 78 years old, a yardman employed and residing at the home of Mrs. F. Roelins, 7322 Flora boulevard, Maplewood, was run down and fatally injured at 5:40 yesterday afternoon near the Maplewood station by a westbound Missouri Pacific passenger train. He died in an ambulance while being taken to the Missouri Pacific Hospital in St. Louis.
He had started across the tracks, but apparently failed to notice the approaching train, witnesses said. The engineer, V. M. Cole, 2819 Eads avenue, was unable to stop before striking him and he was thrown to one side of the track.

ENTRY LIST NOW 28
IN PULITZER RACE

Especially Built Planes Expected to Establish New Air Records.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 1.—A speed of 200 miles an hour will be recorded here during the Pulitzer air races, Oct. 14, according to predictions made by army and navy officers who have made arrangements for the event.

This speed, according to the authorities from Washington, is 300 feet a second, or one-fourth the muscle velocity of a .45-caliber bullet.
They added another comparison by saying that the planes of this contest will fly abreast at a speed four times as great as the fastest average speed of any express train on the continent.

The two branches of the Government service have entered 23 planes in the Pulitzer race, bringing the total entry list to 28.
The Pulitzer Trophy race, the culmination of a series of aerial contests extending over a period of several days, will start from Self-ridge Field, near Mount Clemens.
The course is triangular and measures approximately 40 miles.

Entrance Requirements.
The Pulitzer race entrants must cover this course four times without a stop. According to navy and army airmen, the especially built planes now being made, ready for the race should establish new records.

Four air events in addition to the Pulitzer Trophy competition are scheduled for Detroit and vicinity during October. The first of these will be on Lake St. Clair, Saturday, Oct. 7. The chief event on the opening day will be the Curtiss Marine Flying Trophy race, including only over-water craft as entrants. The distance to be flown is about 150 miles, eight times around a closed triangular course of 20 miles. Twelve flying boats are entered.

Second Aero Congress.
The second National Aero Congress will be held here Oct. 12, 13 and 14. Overland races will be held during the congress. Two of these races are set for Oct. 12. They are the Detroit News aerial mail trophy race for large capacity multimotored airplanes and the Aviation Country Club of Detroit trophy race for observation type (two-passenger) planes. Other aerial exhibitions and contests will be held and in these the First United States Army pursuit group, stationed at Selfridge Field, will play a large part.

The pursuit group, as it has become known, is the nucleus for the advanced fighting air force of the American army, and is being enlarged rapidly. New machines are arriving each week and it has been learned the Detroit district is to be the army's aerial headquarters, at least during summer months. The group some time ago was brought here from Texas.

The day of the Pulitzer race will be a municipal holiday in Detroit.
Prominent national figures, including President Harding, Secretary Hoover, Secretary Weeks and Secretary Denby, the latter a Detroit resident, have been invited.

The aero congress is expected to bring together representatives of 60 American cities interested in creating a permanent national aeronautic association to develop aviation, both commercially and for national defense.

MAX WEIL, 62, DIES IN STATLER APARTMENTS

President of Clothing Firm Succumbs to Bright Disease; Ate Hearty Supper After Warning.

Max Weil, 62 years old, president of the Weil Clothing Co., Eighth street and Washington avenue, died at 11:35 o'clock last night in his apartments at Hotel Statler.

After hearing the testimony of Dr. Harry Sandperl, Weil's physician for the last 10 years, Coroner Richter stated today that death was caused by chronic interstitial nephritis, or "Bright" disease, from which Weil had been a sufferer for two years. Dr. Sandperl said that he saw Weil Tuesday and he seemed in excellent health. "He was feeling so well that I didn't prescribe any medicine for him, but I warned him to be careful of his diet," Dr. Sandperl testified.

Mrs. Weil said that she and her husband at stewed duck and watermelon for dinner at 7 o'clock last evening. She said that she warned him about eating such a heavy meal, but he explained that he was feeling well and that he didn't believe it would impair his health. For the last two years, Mrs. Weil said, Weil had been on a diet and ate but little meat.

Ill at 11 O'clock. After eating dinner Mrs. Weil said, she and her husband went for an automobile ride, returning to their apartment shortly after 9 o'clock. She said that she retired about 10:30, leaving her husband in the living room reading a newspaper. She said that she was awakened shortly after 11 o'clock by her husband, who told her that he was having difficulty getting his breath.

The house physician, Dr. J. Hogan, was called and gave Weil a stimulant, but he died in about 15 minutes. Dr. Hogan said that Weil was unconscious when he was called and never regained consciousness. Dr. Hogan expressed the opinion that acute indigestion, caused by overeating, was a contributory cause to Weil's death.

Gaston Metzger, of 5770A McPherson avenue, said that Weil engaged in his regular duties as president of the clothing company yesterday, leaving his office about 6 o'clock. He said that his uncle assisted in handling a consignment of merchandise that arrived yesterday. Weil had been in business here since 1903, with the exception of one year in France. He was born in Strassburg, Alsace, and when 13 years old he went to Dijon, Burgundy, and entered the dry goods store of his uncle. He started as a delivery boy for his uncle, but after a short time entered the linen department of the store.

Came to America. When 17 years old he went to Paris, where he stayed three years. Impressed with the opportunities in the United States he sailed for this country in 1880, going to Cincinnati and later to Newcast, Pa., where he learned English and gathered a knowledge of American business.

When Weil left France he carried with him a picture of a little French girl, whom he had met while in Dijon and to whom he promised to return. In the five years he spent in Newcastle, letters from the little French girl came regularly and, with a small fortune amassed, he returned to Dijon in 1885 to marry Mlle. Nina Metzger, whom he had not met for more than 10 years. She and a son, Ralph, survive him.

Came Here in 1903. After a short honeymoon in France, they came to this country, Mrs. Weil going to the home of an uncle in Cincinnati, while her husband determined upon a location for his business. Kansas City was selected and "The Model," a men's furnishing house, was established and conducted by Weil for 17 years, after which he came to St. Louis, in 1920.

Well's first business here was at Seventh street and Washington avenue, where he remained until 1909, when he sold out to his two partners and returned to France, with the intention of staying. He returned, however, in 1910, opened a clothing store at Broadway and St. Charles streets, and moved to his present location shortly afterward.

Ralph Weil, a son, and vice-president of the company, came to St. Louis last morning for France to meet his wife. He was notified last night by wireless of his father's death, and funeral arrangements will not be made until word is received from him.

Pittsburg a One-Man Ball Club, Walter Schmidt's Record Proves

Pirates Played Wretchedly, Until Holdout Catcher Rejoined His Mates, Then They Began the Spurt That Is Still Continuing — Backstop Put Pitching Staff Back on the Map.

By Herman Wecke.

There may be nothing in "One-Man Ball Clubs." But if ever a man "made" a team, that athlete is Walter Schmidt, catcher of the Pittsburgh club. Schmidt was a holdout at the start of the season. He refused to join the team and it was not until after Bill McKelchie had been made manager to succeed George Gibson that he was lured from his California home.

It was on July 20 that the catcher, regarded as one of the best in the National League joined the club. But since then the Pirates have been setting a terrific pace. When Schmidt joined, the team had a mark of 40-44.482. Now it has a figure of 68-56, which shows a gain of 63 percentage points.

That shows that since Schmidt joined the club, the aggregation has been going at a 700 pace, a faster gain than has been set by any club in the league. In this stretch 28 contests were won, while only 12 went on the wrong side of the ledger.

But Schmidt's coming into the fold did more than put the Pirates on a winning spurt. It helped the pitchers. This is easily evinced by a look at the records.

Prior to the time that Schmidt rejoined the club, the hurlers were an erratic lot. But records show that since July 20, the helped mound staff has been the steadiest in either major league.

FOREST HILLS, Sept. 1.—Bill Tilden defeated Gerald Patterson, captain of the Australian Davis Cup team in the first match of the challenge round here this afternoon. The scores were 7-5, 10-8, 6-0.

By the Associated Press.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 1.—Ten thousand persons gathered at the West Side Club today to see the nineteenth play for the Davis tennis cup. The first singles match was between Gerald L. Patterson, the Australian captain, and William T. Tilden II, the American ace. The weather was fair.

Tilden won the first set, 7-5. Patterson won the first game, 4-2, on Tilden's errors. The second game went to deuce on a net and out by Tilden and after deuce had been called a second time Tilden won 6-4, with a service ace and out by Patterson.

Tilden took the third game, 5-7, the Australian committing two double faults at critical moments. Patterson made it two games all when he broke through Tilden's service to win at 4-1.

Patterson went into the lead 3 games to 2 in the fifth, scoring 3 service aces, which brought roars of applause from the gallery.

Exterminator, Alias Old Poison, Is Enough to Make All the Other Horses Commit Race Suicide

Held, 19-Year-Old Winner Of U. S. Public Links Title, Goes to National Amateur

St. Louis Boy, Graduate of Forest Park Course, Conceded a Fair Chance to Figure Prominently in Event That Opens at Brookline Country Club, Boston, Tomorrow.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 1.—Nineteen-year-old Eddie Held of St. Louis, first public links champion of the United States by virtue of his victory over Richard Walsh of New York, 6 up and 5 to play, yesterday, is seeking new laurels. Held last night departed for Boston, where on the links of the Brookline Country Club he will compete for the national amateur championship tomorrow against the country's best players.

Many of those who followed Held through 21 holes of strenuous play yesterday, believe that the graduate of the Forest Park links, St. Louis, has an excellent chance of reaching the semi-finals and possibly of winning the championship.

For, in yesterday's match for the James D. Standish Jr. Cup, over the Ottawa links, Held proved that he has the true golfing temperament and is able to do his best under pressure. And Eddie's best is something to interest you. Held did not make a tactical blunder. His drives were true and far, and his judgment on shots faultless. He had some bad fortune, but he came out of it like a veteran.

This was the first tourney of consequence Held has ever won. In the Western tournament this year Held pushed Chick Evans to 21 holes to eliminate him and in other events he has shown signs of acquiring the poise needed to make a great golfer.

Held's Play Remarkably Even.

At Toledo Eddie was at his best. Yesterday he finished the morning 19 holes in 73 which put him three up on Walsh. In all other rounds of the course except the unfinished 18th hole, Held was close to the mark. His worst round was 75 and he qualified in fourth place with a 74.

Held should have had better than a par score but, finding that he had the match in hand, he several times yielded to the appeals of spectators to clear distant hazards and over-pressed his tee shots. The trouble that resulted cost him at least four strokes in the afternoon. Walsh, while clever with the malleable niblick, was no match for Held after losing the sixth hole. Thereafter Held was never "down." By taking holes 17 and 18, Eddie went three up, after the morning play.

In the afternoon Held drove into a sand trap, at the start, and Walsh led off ahead of him with a long putt, cutting Held's lead to two. But that was the last of Walsh's rally, for thereafter Held plucked along, halving or winning the re-

'Old Poison' Wins Saratoga Cup 4th Consecutive Time

Famous 7-Year-Old Gelding's Victory Causes Popular Demonstration.

SARATOGA, Sept. 1.—"Old Poison" came through again. Willis Sharpe Kilmer's seven-year-old gelding Exterminator proved his class once more, yesterday when for the fourth consecutive year he won the Saratoga Cup race at one and three-quarter miles from Mad Hatter and Bon Homme.

The old gelding, carrying low weight for him, 128 pounds, slogged through the heavy going stubbornly. He led all the way, from the first furlongs. Mad Hatter challenged in the stretch but Exterminator hung on like the game horse he is.

Only three starters accepted the issue because of track or weight conditions which, for once, favored Exterminator. In most of his races this year Exterminator had to concede big weight to his rivals.

The time was below Exterminator's best for this distance by almost four seconds.

His Fourth Championship. Exterminator's victory, which again gives Kilmer's veteran campaigner the long-distance championship of American turf, aroused an enthusiastic popular demonstration.

The race, which was worth $550 to the winner, brought Exterminator's total earnings for six years up to about $215,000, an American record for geldings. The trio of thoroughbreds went to the post at even weights, all carrying 126 pounds.

In the Hopeful Stakes, Dunlin, running in the J. S. Coaden colors, coupled with Martingale, finished half a length in front of Goshawk after a grueling stretch drive. Zov, the Rancocas crack, set a sizzling early pace with Goshawk and Dunlin holding a close by. Martingale ran away for three furlongs before the start of the race, was left at the post and finished last. Bud Fisher's Cartoonists finished fourth and was followed in orders by Enchantment, Boys Believe Me, Wildderness, Curtis, Flagstaff, Bright Tomorrow, Barbary, Bush and Martingale.

The race was worth $38,950 to the winner.

Memphis and Mobile Tied.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 1.—Mobile and Memphis, battling in a stretch finish for the Southern Association championship, were "all square" last night—each with 85 games won and 52 lost—as a result of the Bears' victory over Birmingham yesterday while Memphis was dividing a double-header with Nashville.

Wray's Column

Autocratic? Yea, Bo.

CHAMPION JACK DEMPSEY and Bill Brennan were prevented from boxing a no-decision contest at Michigan City, by the Governor of Indiana, because the bout, in the opinion of the Governor, was to have been a prize fight.

The same Governor has just given his O. K. to a no-decision contest between Champion Joe Lynch and Pal Moore, at the same arena and on the same date as had been chosen for the Dempsey-Brennan go.

The facts are hard to reconcile. The same literature, advertising the "title" aspect of the show, is being used for the Lynch-Moore contest as for the Dempsey-Brennan match; and as this was the Governor's chief argument against the Dempsey bout, it should have constituted an equal argument against the Lynch contest.

If the law of Indiana permits no-decision contests and specifies the conditions under which they are to be fought, how is it possible to convict the principals in any bout of a law violation in advance of its occurrence.

As a matter of fact the Dempsey-Brennan bout was not a good match and the Governor saved the public some disappointment when he prevented it.

Neither will the Pal Moore-Joe Lynch go prove a good match. Moore is not a boxer—he is a slap-stick artist. His unorthodox style is baffling and he can annoy and harry an opponent by his elusiveness without showing the least power against him.

But he fills the average boxing breast with disappointment, even in his highest flights, since he is just a will-o'-the-wisp with out substance or power.

The bout will be one of several that these men have fought to gether so that the situation will present no phase of novelty and no possibility of rousing any great enthusiasm, unless the champion should slip through the veteran Moore's guard the punch that would end it decisively.

Putting Us on the Map.

IF advertising pays, then St. Louis owes something to its sport features and the men back of them. Eddie Held is the latest individual to carry the name of the city into news headlines. His victory in the national public links golf championship at Toledo was the vehicle.

Besides Held, at the present moment, George Slater, Ken Williams and Rogers Hornsby are spreading the gospel of the Mound City in baseball; and the Browns may yet perform the supreme feat of winning the title.

In addition, we have a national champion in Loren Murchison, the sprinter, and also national champions in soccer football—the Scullions.

St. Louis sports and athletics, which so long were in the doldrums, apparently are emerging at last from the drab mediocrity of the past.

Flamingo Defeats Shelburne at Polo

Winners Will Oppose Meadowbrook in International Tourney Final Tomorrow.

By the Associated Press.

RUMSON, N. J., Sept. 1.—Flamingo and Meadowbrook will meet here tomorrow in the final match of the international polo tournament for the Herbert memorial cup. Flamingo gained a place in the final yesterday by defeating Shelburne, 12 to 7. Only four of the goals for the winners were scored, as they had a handicap of eight. On an even basis Shelburne would have won, 7-4.

It rained throughout the game, drizzling through the first half and then turning into a severe storm. The last two chukkers were played in semi-darkness, pierced by vivid flashes of lightning, which drove all but a few of the spectators away from the field, and those who remained sought shelter under the stands.

There was one bad spill. Just as the bell rang ending the fourth chukker the pony of Harry East, No. 2 of Flamingo, stumbled and the rider fell beneath him. East crawled out and staggered away holding his head. He was assisted to the side lines and was able to continue when the intermission ended.

None of the Shelburne players was up to his customary mallet work, and many of their well planned attacks were fruitless because of indifferent hitting. The work of Capt. Stoddard stood out, with three goals.

B. H. Gatins, No. 3 of Flamingo, played despite a bad shoulder, which he went to New York to have treated yesterday morning.

The summary: Shelburne. Goals. Position. Flamingo. Goals. Stoddard, L. E. 3 1 Cooley, J. C. 2 Belmont, R. 1 2 East, H. 2 Webb, J. Watson 2 Gatins, B. H. . . . 0 Strawbridge, R. E. 1 back Prince, F. H. J. 0

ROBERTSON WILL COACH ATHLETES AT AUSTIN U.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—With the call of his alma mater ringing in his ears, Charlie Robertson, the White Sox pitcher of no-run, no-hit, no-body-reach-first fame, is anxiously waiting to make the trip back to Texas, so that he can resume his duties as coach of Austin University at Sherman, Tex.

As coach of the Texas school's athletes, Robertson takes a hand in all sports. He supervises football, baseball and track athletics and in the capacity the institution looks for him to be of hand when the season opens or soon thereafter.

It is likely that permission will be given the star to make the trip, providing Manager Gleason can spare him. As a baseball coach, Robertson put together a baseball team before he joined the White Sox, which is something to be proud of. It won 14 or 15 games and lost one.

Suppose an artist copies a famous painting in an art gallery—the resemblance between the two is very, very close. Nevertheless, the ORIGINAL is always superior—partly because it is a creation, not an imitation.

The ORIGINAL McKnight conceived the popular price idea in tailored clothes in St. Louis. A system was perfected whereby clothes that would FIT could be tailored at LOW prices. There are imitators, yes—but there is only ONE ORIGINAL.

City News in Brief

THE TOWER GROVE HEIGHTS improvement Association will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. E. Turrell, 1401 S. E. Turrell, just west of the Clayton car loop, on Clayton road.

PATROLMAN ARTHUR C. COLE, a "night rider" in the Mount Pleasant district, living at 4951 N. 11th Avenue, last night, broke brother policemen to assist in ferreting out an apartment burglar which occurred at his home some time yesterday during the absence of himself and wife. Jewelry valued at $350 and $52 in money were taken. Cole reported the house had been marked by a burglar's "jimmy" or other tool, and he believed a duplicate key had been made of one of the doors. Burglars in the home of Mrs. Ellen Hedmond, 3527 West Pine, last night, stole a fur coat valued at $350 and $3 during the absence of the family.

JAMES DOHERTY, 65 YEARS OLD, who occupied a room at the rear of 1907 Chestnut street, where he was employed as a janitor, was found dead in the room at 9 P. M. yesterday. Doctors said he had been dead several days, and the natural cause apparently caused death. Tenants of the building discovered the body lying on the floor when they went to investigate the failure of Doherty to appear for his usual duties.

Helmich Sworn as Collector.

Arnold J. Helmich, vice president and secretary of the Helmich Bros. Printing Co., Eighteenth and Locust streets, was sworn in as Collector of Internal Revenue for the First District of Missouri at St. Louis. He was nominated for the office July 23 by President Harding. He was the third man to be named for the post. John S. Leahy was named first, but declined to qualify, and Nat Goldstein, who was the second to be named, withdrew after a bitter fight. Helmich succeeds George H. Moore, who resigned shortly before Jan. 1.

PROPOSED MERGER OF THREE STEEL PLANTS CALLED "UNFAIR"

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The Federal Trade Commission today issued a formal complaint, charging that the proposed merger of the companies was in violation of the law in that it constituted an "unfair method of competition." The commission's decision was exactly the reverse of that reached by the Department of Justice, which recently informed Congress that the proposed combination was not in contravention of either the Webb, Clayton or the Sherman anti-trust laws, but was in line with previous action of the commission in issuing a complaint against the Bethlehem-Lackawanna merger, which merger was declared by the Attorney-General to be as free of "unfair trade practices" as the proposed Midvale-Republic-Inland merger.

SOLDIER HELD AFTER ROBBERY

He Is Identified by Victim of Hold-Up in East St. Louis.

A man giving his name as Houston J. Vaughn, a soldier, stationed at Jefferson Barracks, was arrested last night in the St. Clair Hotel, Third street and Missouri avenue, East St. Louis, on a charge of participating in the robbery of William Bell, proprietor of a saloon at 233 North Third street.

Bell informed the police that at 1:30 o'clock he was held up by two men, and while one pointed a revolver at him the other took $15 from his pockets. Detective Breen saw two men run from the saloon, and when Bell informed him he had been robbed, Breen gave chase, firing two shots at the men. The shots attracted Police Sergeant O'Flaherty, who joined in the chase. The men, the officers say, ran into the St. Clair Hotel, where Vaughn was arrested. The other man escaped. Bell identified Vaughn as the man who took the money from his pockets. The prisoner had $17.50.

Boys Collide, Breaking Neck of One.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 1.—Charles Engler, 17 years old, suffered a broken neck yesterday afternoon when he collided with a youth he had been chasing. Earl Graham, 18, was released a $5000 bond. Graham and Engler were report made to the police. Engler told Graham to "look out for my curves." An argument resulted and Graham said he started to run. He said he turned around and his arm struck Engler in the neck. The youth fell and started to arise. "I'll get you," he said, and fell dead, playing baseball. According to the

Where Should Man's Chivalry Stop When Woman Shares His Rights?

SHOULD A WIFE HELP HER HUSBAND PAY THE RENT?

Chivalry, Says Mrs. Anna Garlin Spencer, Has Reached Its Highest Form, but Women Cannot Have Economic Independence and at Same Time Claim Privileges Men Used to Give Them When They Were Dependents.

By Fay Stevenson.
(Copyright, 1922.)

"CHIVALRY has reached its highest form. While it is true women cannot have freedom, equality of rights, economic independence and equal opportunity of self-development with men and at the same time claim from these men the same kind of privileges that chivalrous and good-hearted men used to give their mothers, sisters and friends when they were dependents upon them, it is also true that men never were as chivalrous as they are to-day. The chivalry that is to-day is the chivalry of the 'Rev.' and 'Dr.' is at present delivering a series of lectures at Teachers' College, Columbia University, which are all based upon the new woman and the new conditions she must meet.

"There is just one thing which this modern woman must avoid," keen-eyed Little Mrs. Spencer told me, "and that is, the modern woman must not grasp her new rights without her new responsibilities. The individual who tries to come to grief, and the social era that tries it on a large scale is an era that will have to be reconstructed by later social experience."

"Then you think that the woman who jumps for equal rights must accede her seat in the street car, must be willing to help pay the rent of an apartment when she marries and cease to expect the same chivalry which her mother enjoyed because she was more or less dependent upon her father?" I asked.

"Giving up seats in the car is a minor issue which I refuse to discuss," promptly replied Mrs. Spencer, "but when you speak of sharing the rent and household expenses you are coming to the vital problems which will soon face every woman."

"Woman's new opportunities and her new freedom are bound to bring about serious change in the lives of her husband and her children. Probably one of the first conditions to be considered along this line is alimony. Past conditions and the fact that the average woman was dependent upon her husband made it necessary for the husband to have to support his wife and child when it was discovered that husband and wife could not live together. But now, if women gain the proposed Blanket Bill and equal rights are procured, the question arises whether the husband should be forced to provide full support for his family. Why shouldn't the self-supporting wife be responsible for at least half their support?"

"Another problem which is going to confront the modern woman is that she shall do with her own pay envelope when she is married," pointed out Mrs. Spencer. "In the old days the housewife gave a good portion of her time to running and managing her home. Even if she were fortunate enough to have a servant she supervised and really stood at the head of things, but if she is drawing a pay envelope she usually has this work hired. Naturally enough, her husband foots these bills, but the question arises: Should she calmly pocket her 'own money' and keep it for herself while her husband pays all the expenses and puts all his earnings into the 'family fund'?"

"Please understand that I am entirely neutral on these subjects," confessed Mrs. Spencer, "but I merely want to point out the conditions which this new woman with so much freedom must face. With her new rights and privileges are coming new responsibilities, and it is well for her to see them in the beginning.

"For several years the labor welfare legislation has been trying to protect women working along industrial lines, to protect potential motherhood and to give women the lightest load, but just what equal rights will do along this line no one knows.

"Many men used to cheat their creditors by placing their homes and property in their wives' hands. Perhaps this, too, will be changed with women's new freedom."

"I am not sure but that there are a number of women who would far prefer to share their pay envelope in maintaining the home than to dwell within the confines of four walls," suggested to Mrs. Spencer. "Not only would such women be happier, but isn't it possible that woman's ability to earn her own pay envelope is going to make it possible for her to marry the man she loves rather than the 'good provider'?"

"That is one of the privileges which goes along with her rights," smiled Mrs. Spencer. "It is true the type of man most desired for husband a few years ago was the good provider. Now, women being economically free, are to a large extent the selective agents, and they will choose, and thereby create, the type of man they desire. Character and the higher qualities have become a part of our masculine ideal, and I believe that women in many instances will marry for love rather than money."

"And the men?" I asked.

"They are more chivalrous than ever," concluded the lecturer, "not only in the fact that they grant equal rights to women, but everything and even turn to us for aid, but because a man always admires progression. It is therefore up to us to see that with our rights we assume some of the responsibilities. We can't stand up and sit down at the same time. With our rights and new freedom come certain demands from husband, children and family funds, and it is up to us to meet them."

Fashion News Notes

NEW YORK.—Black, brown and navy are the smart colors for early autumn, an edict which presages a season eminently "practical." For the woman who does not go in for suits, there are smart one-piece dresses of navy or black over which a coat of marvellous cloth in navy or black is both suitable and lovely.

PARIS.—Gloves have taken to themselves new modes. With a sleeveless jacket of black velvet, worn over a sleeveless frock, the gloves were wrist length black silk, which left the whole arm bare. A coquettish ruffle of plaited black satin edged the coat and the wearer carried a parasol, very small and smart, made of the black ruffles and lined with white chiffon.

NEW YORK.—There is an indication that we shall see shagreened this winter, and getting into our dinner gowns will be like getting into a thin coat of armor combined with medieval handkerchiefs. The local fashion show brought forth a lovely gown with pearl wristlets connecting with chains that fastened at waist and shoulder. For the formal gown nothing is more graceful than jeweled chains arranged in some such fashion.

NEW YORK.—A variation on the overblouse is the new and stunning matelasse jacket. Beneath one of these jackets no blouse is worn, and yet, combined with a plaited sports skirt—the effect is that of skirt and coat. Many of the matelasse jackets have reverse and V neck and fasten with little clusters of pearl buttons, fitting closely about the top of a skirt as did the overblouse. They come in bright colors, as well as in black and white, and are a delightful item of sports wear, especially for early autumn.

NEW YORK.—The old time miller's purse is back with us again, the convenient draw-string purse which is so easy to carry to the wrist whether shopping or strolling down the avenue. But the new miller's purses are decorated with an elaborateness calculated to make any miser swoon with shock at the lack of economy.

Some Things Women Are Doing in Modern Hand-Work

It has become a common failing among casual observers to accuse the modern woman of being untalented in hand-work and without the capability along that line of her grandmother. If that same grandmother were alive today, it is very possible that she would find so many interests that she would lengthen her tiny stitches and drawstring purses and sewing machine, lay aside her knitting until evening, and hurry to get time to do other things just as modern women do. Besides, ready-to-wear garments were not in vogue in her day, and she worked from necessity, not choice.

Old methods are coming back, it is true, but with modern improvements, home-weaving is now classed among the arts, and the beautiful things done are copies of old materials of artistic periods, not the ordinary homespun and linsey woolsey. Silk for wraps and waists is woven in Persian design and coloring, and dress materials are made with designs that are destroyed when the article is finished, so that there is no fear of a second pattern like it anywhere in the world. Patchwork has been revived, but it is so elaborate in pattern, often embellished with applique work, that tiny stitches are not missed in the bolder, more decorative needlework.

Old-fashioned knitters of socks, tippets, stockings, baby things and the like would revel in the sweaters, outing coats and skirts, old stockings, caps, scarfs and silk-lined bedthrows their granddaughters make in season and out of season. Paper and silk lampshades, embroidered linens, lace and the rest of the fancy work of olden times are being made, and the wonder is how women manage to do it with so much ease going on.

Burlap, not a pretty material in itself, and very rough to work on, may be fashioned into bags for all uses by drawing the threads in patterns and adding decorative stitching in well-chosen colored worsteds. The handles are of the material stitched or buttoned in place. Sometimes when completed the bags are dipped in dark and serviceable colored dye or in light coloring for more dressy use. The bags are lined with silk or satin to match or contrast with the outer color.

This has been a summer of oilcloth interest to fancy workers. Chintz pillows have been trimmed with oilcloth bands and chintz-topped tassels and plaid oilcloth pillow-covers have been finished with double cut fringe, which is pretty and does not roll and twist as the single-cut fringe does. Oilcloth chair covers are made for garden chairs that have passed their decorative prime. These covers are not only neat in appearance, but rainproof as well. Octagonal and heart-shaped pillows for the shoulders are among the favorite shapes in oilcloth.

Lace-making has been among the season's revivals, and many women have been eager to learn the intricate work which is taught at most of the foreign neighborhood houses, where peasants from lace-making countries are installed as teachers. The work is trying on the eyes and more confining than American women are used to, so it is doubtful whether they will have the patience to achieve distinction in this line of needlecraft.

In the cool quiet of our museums we find girls busily copying old masters and rare designs, not in all cases becoming great artists, but getting foundations for charming needlework designs for our magazines, wall-paper patterns, designs for gowns and hats, and in other instances preparing to become interior decorators, a profession in which many of our women shine today. Many a ball of knitting is placed beside an embryo doctor, lawyer or architect as she studies in the public library, and she picks it up and knits a few rows while she digests a weighty problem. In our largest city, during the noon hour, numbers of stenographers from offices of high finance gather in a famous churchyard, cut out shirtwaists or collars on a convenient saphogah, chat, lunch and sew contentedly in the quiet, cool spot. Granddaughters are quite as capable as grandmothers, but must be judged by modern standards.

SCALLOP CHOWDER

TAKE a quart of deep sea scallops, rinse in a colander with cold water, and dry on a linen towel. Lay a few strips of fat bacon in the bottom of the chowder pot and place a layer of chopped onions, a half cupful of chopped celery and a minced pepper on top. Add a layer of sliced potatoes, then a layer of four scallops cut in halves with a sharp knife or in quarters if they are very large. Dot generously with butter, and dust with pepper and salt. Proceed in this way until all the scallops are used. Lay around the edge six pickled crackers broken in four pieces each. Pour over all a quart of rich milk. Stew gently, and watch closely, as the milk is apt to scorch. Thirty to 45 minutes should cook the chowder sufficiently. Cover as it cooks.

After Vacation Peel Your Discolored Skin

Women returning from the seaside or country with browned, reddened or freckled skins will be wise in immediately taking up the marooned wax treatment. Weatherbeaten skin had best come off, for no amount of "beautifying" will ever make it pretty to look at. The marooned wax, called "wax" treatment, suggested. Put the wax on before retiring, so that the wax will melt and rise off next morning with your water. Mince your skin with skin peel off day by day, gradually showing the healthy, youthful skin beneath. One ounce of marooned wax, obtainable at any drug store, is enough to make any discolored or freckled complexion clear, white and satiny soft. Its action is so gentle no harm is caused and the face shows no trace of its use.

TO RELIEVE HAY FEVER

By DR. CHARLOTTE C. WEST.

HAY fever is at its height now. The summer colds that begin in June and are termed rose colds, rose fever and so on must not be confounded with hay fever, which is distinctly an autumnal condition, dependent, as we now know, upon the ripening of certain weed plants and the wind-blown distribution of their pollen. Among these ragweeds is the chief offender. Goldenrod, which promises to be prolific this year, also causes the trouble in many cases.

Why is it that you acquire hay fever and I do not? And why, having suffered an initial attack, are you victimized again season after season with this wretched condition? The answer is that in you there exists some neurotic element, absent in me, which renders you peculiarly susceptible to the action of pollen upon your very sensitive nasal chamber. A remedy I may say a cure, for hay fever, has been found in the plant serum treatment. For instance, if you are victimized by the ragweeds, hypodermic injections of serum made from these plants will prevent or check the progress of the "fever."

I have made hay fever patients very comfortable and enabled them to live the usual routine of their daily lives by treating them with adrenalin, and all can pursue their studies in the public library, and she picks it up and knits a few rows while she digests a weighty problem. In our largest city, during the noon hour, numbers of stenographers from offices of high finance gather in a famous churchyard, cut out shirtwaists or collars on a convenient saphogah, chat, lunch and sew contentedly in the quiet, cool spot. Granddaughters are quite as capable as grandmothers, but must be judged by modern standards.

The following treatment by means of a spray is also fine: Adrenalin chlorid, one-half grain; normal salt solution, one ounce; phenol, one minim; glycerin, two drams; rose water, enough to make two ounces. Spray the nose every two hours and follow with: Menthol, 10 grains; thymol, two grains; liquid vaseline, two ounces. Use in an oil atomizer.

A VERY NATURAL REQUEST.

A CERTAIN Captain of the regular army was on trial before a court-martial for alleged intoxication. His orderly, whose name was McSweeney, appeared for the defense.

"What was the condition of the accused on the date in question?"
asked the Judge-Advocate.

"He was sober, sir," said McSweeney.

"It has been reported," stated the Judge, "that he was in such a condition that you had to help him to his quarters and undress him and put him in bed."

"No, sir," said Private McSweeney, "I just went to quarters with the Captain—that's all, sir."

"Did he say anything that would lead you to think he was intoxicated?"

"No, sir."

"Did he say anything at all?"

"Well, he did say one thing."

"What was that?"

"Well, sir, just as I was leavin' he sez to me, he sez: 'McSweeney, if you're wakin' call me early. For I'm to be Queen of the May.'"
